CAPITOL IS DELUGED BY BILLS

Several Anti-Alien Land Measures Sprung as Surprise at Sacramento

Alameda County Delegation Busy With Several Proposals for New Legislation

(Special Correspondent to THE TRIBUNE.)

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 14.—

The first active step toward lawmaking in the fortieth California Legislature was taken last night, when the Senate and Assembly convened for the introduction of bills following the adoption of all contested rules at the afternoon sessions. Ninety-nine proposed laws were introduced in the lower house while the upper house created a higher ratio, in comparison to membership, by introducing 64 measures.

These bills cover a wide range of proposed legislation, and there are practically no "freak" measures among them. The most drastic laws proposed are those which oppose the owning of lands by aliens and aimed principally at Asiatics. Three anti-alien land bills were introduced in the Senate—two by Senator Birdsell of Auburn, a staunch Progressive, and the other by Senator Sanford of Ukiah, known as the "Gray Eagle of Ukiah."

These bills provide for dissimilar modes of curbing the feared Asiatic freeholder aggression in California. The Assembly another phase of anti-alien land legislation was introduced by Assemblyman Cary of Fresno.

UPSETS ALL HOPES.

The introduction of these bills upsets completely the hopes for prevention of the consideration of anti-alien land legislation at this session by the officials of the Panama-Pacific Exposition, who labored at the capitol for several days with both the Progressives and Democrats in an effort to prevent the introduction of these bills until after the Panama-Pacific Exposition in 1915.

The fears expressed by President Charles C. Moore that such a move would cost the fair upward of $20,000,000 and would likely cause its degeneration into a "country fair" did not assuage the determination of the Democrats to carry out the pledges made in their platform last September to serve from their purpose, inasmuch as the Democrats would not commit

WHITE GIRLS RESCUED FROM DENS OF ORIENTALS

Revolting Saturnalias Uncovered by Sheriff of Santa Barbara County

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 14.—War-rants were issued here today for scores of Chinese and Japanese in the town of Guadalupe, who are alleged to have held six young white women in bondage, and by playing them constantly with liquor and drugs induced them to perform nightly in the most revolting saturnalias. Sheriff Nat Stewart, who became cognizant of the situation in the little hamlet when Constable Dan Cognazzini resigned because he could not control the Orientals, left today to serve the warrants. The six young white slaves have been removed from

RAIN AND SNOW FALL IN WEST AND ON COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—Three inches of rain had fallen in Parella this morning and, with lesser precipitation, the southeasterly storm that raged yesterday along the northern California coast was moving southward, growing milder as it progressed.

The forecast was that there would probably be rain south of the Tehachapi late today. From Dunsmuir to Seattle and eastward to Spokane there were mingled heavy rains and snows that weighted down the telephone and telegraph wires and everywhere hindered communication.

At Summit, Cal., there was 32 inches of snow, about half the amount at the corresponding season last year. The weather bureau said that both the rain and the snow were needed and would be of great benefit, both immediately to the soil and as a reservoir for future needs.

Los Angeles Man Meant to Eat Lottery Tickets, but Didn't

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 14.—Joe Welsh is in the city jail suffering from the effects of having eaten an electric light bulb by mistake for some lottery tickets.

As several policemen approached him in Chinatown yesterday Welsh grabbed some papers from his coat pocket and started chewing them. A search of his person revealed a number of Chinese lottery tickets and in disgust because of his mistake Welsh coughed up the masticated electric light bulb. He is being held as a lottery agent.

Boy Slays Mother When Refused Money

Lad Shows Cunning in Trying to Fasten Crime on Some Other Person.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 14.—Leroy Higgins, aged 11, shot and killed his mother yesterday in the bedroom of their home at Monaca, near here. The lad was angered because he was refused 5 cents to purchase candy. He reloaded the shotgun, and going into the yard fired a charge through the wall of the house, landing the police to believe, until the boy confessed, that some other person was guilty of the crime.

Girl of 15 Leaps To Terrible Death

Commits Suicide by Jumping Among Group of Electric Wires.

ARRAS, France, Jan. 14.—Angele Rionfaim, a girl 15 years of age, mad from grief over the death of her sweetheart, committed suicide yesterday in a spectacular manner. She climbed a fifty-foot pole and threw herself into a nest of high tension electric wires. Before the current could be cut off every particle of flesh was burned from her body.

MONEY FOR SCHOOLS IS LOW

Deficit in Oakland Department Likely, Is Warning Given Board

John P. Irish Objects to Ruling Made by Directors Regarding Contracts

That the board of education is facing grave danger of a deficit in the school fund was the statement made last night at the board meeting by Secretary R. P. Yorke, who stated that the most rigid economy may, if the state and county revenues are large enough, balance the accounts. Otherwise the deficit will mean the payment of some of this year's bills from next term's funds.

In connection with this report Business Manager Barker reported that a cut should be made in the department mechanics' allowance. "We are paying out $4000 a month for expenses and repairs about school buildings," declared Barker, "and should, I believe, cut this down."

It was recommended that the mechanic's department be cut down to three men besides the chief of this branch of the school government. "What the deficit will be is not yet known," but Secretary Yorke declares that by next meeting he will be in a position to report.

BUDGET WAS CUT.

"We made our budget as small as possible," he declared, "and counted every cent we were to have spent. When we submitted the budget it was cut down $45,000 by the county. That is where the trouble came in. They did not allow us the money we absolutely needed and now we will have to cut down expenses in every possible manner."

Should the state and county revenue be large enough, Yorke says, the board may yet come out ahead, but this, according to present indications, he believes is unlikely.

"It looks like a sure deficit," he declared. "The worst this can mean is the use of next year's funds which would probably mean the discounting of teacher's warrants, as has sometimes been done. Teachers are given warrants payable the next year and these are cashed at once by banks, deducting a small percentage."

TROUBLE OVER BID.

A lively debate took place over awarding a contract for the two-room building at Tenth avenue and East Twenty-fourth street to Christensen, the lowest bidder at $3494 set by Christensen. P. P. Bradhoff, secretary of the exchange, appeared to urge this action. Thornally is a member of the Builders' Exchange, while Christensen is not.

IRISH PROTESTS.

Christensen's bid was accepted despite this protest. A letter from Colonel John P. Irish scoring the introduction of union labor into the school department and making it an issue in awarding contracts was read and filed. "The letter was as follows: 'I am informed that a contractor for the erection of a public school building in this city to employ only union labor. If this be true I beg to offer my respectful protest.'

This is a government of equality of rights. To discriminate between union and non-union labor on government work, paid

Heaviest Veteran, 749 Pounds, Dies

Peter Dubray Carried Open Wound Since Civil War.

SARANAC, N. Y., Jan. 14.—Peter Dubray, said to be the heaviest Civil War veteran, died yesterday at Chazy Lake. He weighed 749 pounds when he stepped on the scales New Year's day to please a gathering of his 12 children and 30 grandchildren. He was 70 years old and a member of the Ninety-first New York volunteers. He was shot during the war and carried an open wound until the time of his death.

SLAYS BRIDE AND HIMSELF AS HORRIFIED FAMILY LOOKS ON

BEAUTIFUL WOMAN IS VICTIM

Donald Jadwin Claps Wife in Arms, Then Fires Fatal Shots

Dinner Guests Sit Aghast as Tragedy Is Enacted in Fashionable Home

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—The dining room of one of San Francisco's most fashionable homes was the scene of a tragedy last night when Donald Jadwin, 25 years of age, entered in the midst of a dinner, shot to death his 19-year-old bride, who had separated from him a short time before, and, while the guests stood aghast at his deed, turned his weapon on himself and fell dead beside his wife's corpse. Jadwin had tried to telephone his wife, who turned a deaf ear to his entreaties, an hour before the tragedy. She hung up the receiver.

Clad in a blue dress, with jealousy and rage, the man hurried to the J. A. Bauer home, where his wife was a guest, and, entering the dining room, clasped her in his arms, kissed her, and then fired twice as he held her. As she dropped to the floor a corpse, he glanced at the two revolvers which he held, finally decided on the one which had killed his wife, and with it shot himself through the head.

DIES IN HOSPITAL.

Jadwin died an hour later, in the Lane hospital, but did not regain consciousness. The bullet tore its way through the brain, entering just above the left ear.

The shooting occurred shortly after 7 o'clock. His wife was attending a dinner at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. J. A. Bauer, 2512 Pacific avenue, and the murder and suicide took place in sight of the guests, Mrs. Bauer, Mrs. Edward August Van Bergen, her mother, Colonel and Mrs. Charles Jay Foster, Miss Enid Foster, and Nicholas Van Bergen.

INSANELY JEALOUS.

Jadwin was insanely jealous of his wife, according to his friends. Last night he attempted to get her on the telephone and, when she refused to answer, he hung the receiver up and refused to answer the telephone again. It was then that Jadwin, beside himself with jealousy and grief, armed himself and hurried to the Bauer home. Entering by the servants' quarters in the basement, Jadwin went to the dining room on the main floor and took the diners by surprise.

"Hello, Minnie," he said, calling his wife by her pet name and throwing his arms around her.

Mrs. Jadwin, who was in evening dress, was seated with her back to the door from which her husband had entered. Almost before she had time to look up he kissed her forehead.

Then, gripping her while he held up his brace of weapons, Jadwin fired in quick succession two shots from the revolver in his right hand.

Men and women at the table covered their eyes with their hands as the young woman fell to the floor, dead. Jadwin stepped back a pace or two and glanced in indecision at the weapons.

CHOICES REVOLVER.

One of them was a .32 caliber revolver, the other an automatic pistol. It was with the revolver that Jadwin had killed his wife, and he elected to use it in killing himself.

Placing it in his left hand, he raised the weapon over his ear, pulled the trigger and fell forward.

The first to recover from the horror of the situation was Mrs. Edward

RAILWAY PROBLEMS ARE HEARD BY COMMISSION

Excitement Nearly Breaks at Hearing—but Not Quite

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—The implication contained in a question to W. R. Alberger, vice-president and general manager of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway Company that the lands owned by the United Properties Company in Piedmont and the Berkeley hills might be responsible for the class of transportation service furnished those sections as compared with that given Hayward and the rates of fare, nearly caused a sensation at the hearing of the Railroad Commission this morning. Only the interference of Commissioner Max Thelen, presiding, lowered the temperature and the spatter of sensation which began in promising fashion was soon over.

Alberger was on the witness stand throughout the morning session. He was first examined directly by counsel for the railroad company in connection with two petitions before the commission to fix the commutation rate from Hayward to Davis street. San Leandro, and to make the one-way tariff between the two points 10 cents. Explanation was also made as to the error in the rates filed with the commission and the witness declared that the fare had always been 20 cents into Oakland, which was only a reasonable return on the investment, and the cost of operation.

LINES SELF-SUPPORTING.

The cross-examination was conducted by Attorney Herman E. Walker of Hayward, who elicited from Alberger the latter's opinion that each of the lines of the company should be self-supporting.

"Do you contend that the Hayward line ought to be self-supporting?" inquired Walker.

"I go back to what I said at the outset," was the reply. "We are convinced and we hope to be able to prove that for the service we render on the length of the haul our rates are not unreasonable, unfair or unjust."

"What connection, if any, does the United Properties Company bear to the street railway over there—the company you represent?"

"I don't see that that cuts any figure," said Alberger after a moment's hesitation.

"We object to that," interposed Attorney Smith, representing the company. Walker was on his feet in a moment and it looked as though the sensational was going to happen.

SEEKS INFORMATION.

"We're not informed," continued Walker, "and the commission is not informed, and we believe we are entitled to know whether the Realty Syndicate has any connection, or whether the United Properties Company has any connection with this company. We understand that the Realty Syndicate has large properties

PEACE TALK COMES TO END

Bulgars to Make Desperate Effort to Capture Adrianople

Turks Reinforce Troops at Tchatalja in Preparation for Attack

LONDON, Jan. 14.—The peace conference has practically come to an end, and the great war between the Balkan allies on one side and Turkey on the other will be resumed within the next few hours. Europe sees no chance of restoring peace. The commanders of the allied forces have been instructed to prepare for a renewal of attack and the Turks on the Tchatalja lines are ready to receive them.

One of the first events of the renewed war will be a desperate assault on the fortress of Adrianople. More than 400,000 troops have surrounded the beleaguered city and a final desperate effort will be made to capture it within the next few days.

AGREE TO END CONFERENCE.

The decision to definitely break up the peace conference in London simultaneously with the presentation to the Turkish government of the note of the European powers was reached today by the chiefs of the peace delegations of the Balkan allies.

The resolution of the representatives of Bulgaria, Greece, Montenegro and Serbia will be communicated to the Porte in a formal note. At the same time it was decided to instruct the commanders of the armed forces of the allies in the field to terminate the armistice, which has been in operation since December 3.

VIZIER MAY RESIGN.

The latest advice received by the Turkish delegates show that the Ottoman grand council has not met yet at Constantinople, and that it probably will not meet. The Turkish envoys understand that Kiamil Pasha, the Grand Vizier, will in all probability resign should the situation develop in such a way that the grand council will be called together. Observers of the situation in London express the opinion that Turkey will reject the advice of the European powers and that hostilities will be resumed.

The threatening note of the allies to the Turks is believed to be such a way that it will become effective only in the event of the Ottoman government refusing compliance with the advice given to it by the ambassadors of the European powers.

The members of the Balkan league are of the opinion that the note drafted by the European diplomats is so diluted that it requires the admixture of a vitalizing tonic and this, they think, will be supplied by their threat to continue hostilities.

Since December 3 hostilities between themselves to a delay in attempting to enact laws against the Orientals.

ALAMEDA DELEGATION BUSY IN BOTH BRANCHES OF STATE LEGISLATURE

Appropriation bills for various purposes were introduced including a number of measures for the extension and development of the different branches of the state university throughout the state.

COMMERCIAL MEASURE.

Perhaps the most vital proposed law to California, commercially, was that introduced jointly by Assemblyman Benedict in the Assembly and Senator Carr in the Senate. The bill relates to the alleged unfair competition methods adopted by some corporations in recent years and utilized by them to gain their object without the violation of anti-trust laws in openly combining to gain their goal.

The unfair competition aimed at particularly is in cases where a state or nation-wide corporation will confine its fight to a specific locality, forcing down prices for the commodity disposed of or service rendered, with the idea of "squeezing" out local enterprises and making up the deficit created as a result of these low or discriminatory prices by making their branches in other communities pay their prorata of the deficit created in the locality affected by the lowered prices.

DELEGATION ACTIVE.

The Alameda county delegation was unusually active in the Senate. All four Senators introduced measures. Senator Strobridge introduced his bill providing for equal guardianship. Senator Tyrrell presented measures providing for laws on indecent exposure and on the carrying of firearms. Senator Benedict introduced two bills for appropriations for the State University, principal of which was the bill for a $100,000 North Hall at the university. Senator Carr introduced two bills, one amending the Alameda city charter for ratification and also the bill calling for the release by the state of the Alameda tidelands to the city, placing the waterfront under municipal control.

In the Assembly the Alameda county delegation did not participate so actively in the initial bill introduction. Assemblyman Gelder, Morganstern, Smith and Tyrrell were the only members presenting bills. Assemblyman Morganstern presented the Alameda waterfront bill and the measure calling for the ratification of the amendment to the Alameda city charter. Assemblyman Smith introduced two bills, one calling for the installation of fire hydrants within municipalities by corporations as soon as public privileges have been granted to and designating the power of regulation by local authorities the order provides for the compulsory supplying of clear water for family use to all private water corporations authorized to operate within any municipality.

GELDER URGES DIRECT VOTE.

The most unusual bill of the delegation was introduced by Assemblyman Gelder. It provides that the state legislature shall call Congress call an election to vote on an amendment to the United States constitution calling for the election of the President and Vice-President of the United States by the direct vote of the people. The bill terms the electoral college a useless formality.

Assemblyman Fitzgerald's bill extending the powers of the state harbor commission at San Francisco to permit the granting of ferry privileges to cities who wish to become linked with San Francisco through the establishment of a union ferry, concluded those that went to the committee from the Alameda county delegation.

Senator A. H. Brown of Oakland, however, in his alphabetical position in the roll-call, gained the honor of presenting the first measure to the Senate.

ate to come from the Alameda county delegation. His first bill was No. 7, and it called for the appropriation of $400,000 for the erection of a classroom on the campus of the University of California.

The same weights and measures bill that met its Waterloo in the Assembly at the last session was offered to the Senate by Senator Tyrrell. It calls for a state system of weights and measures.

Senator Tyrrell also launched his plan of indeterminate sentences placing in the hands of the State Prison Board the length of term a convict should serve for various offenses, the term being determined by his good behavior.

Senator Strobridge introduced his equal guardianship bill, giving the mother as much care in the control and earnings of a child as the father. The bill gave the tide and marsh lands adjoining the city of Alameda for wharfage purposes was filed by Senator Hans. The other bill filed by Hans was calling for the approval of the three amendments which the City of Alameda voted to its charter in July, 1911.

PROVIDES "SPEED GALLERY."

Every chauffeur in the state would have his photograph hanging in the "speed gallery" if a bill which Senator D. J. Beban of San Francisco introduced last night runs the gauntlet. Beban's bill completely changes the system of collecting licenses for motor vehicles and is aimed at the reckless drivers of automobiles.

The bill requires for the creation of a staff of examiners who shall pass on the qualifications of every person seeking a motor license, and every operator of a motor vehicle would be required to have a license. Applications would be made to the Secretary of State, accompanied by a photograph of the applicant. The photo would be kept on file. Applicants would have to qualify as to their fitness in operating machines and no one under 21 years of age would be granted a license. A metal license badge would be issued to those granted a license.

The movement to inaugurate a minimum wage law for women and children was started last night by Senator William E. Brown of Los Angeles and Assemblyman W. A. Robert of the same city by companion bills. They call for the establishment of a minimum wage commission to consist of five members and to be appointed by the governor and the senate. The commission is to investigate the minimum wage conditions for women and children preparatory to the passing of legislation on this subject.

OBSCURE RECALL.

To curb the indiscriminate use of recall elections against the officers of incorporated cities and towns, Senator J. C. Owens, former mayor of Richmond, introduced a bill last night that is designed to place a check on this sort of legislation.

Owens would require that three different notices be sent to the officers of recall of an official be posted about the city instead of being circulated and that the voters affix their names to the petition on these bulletins according to how they viewed the proposed recall. The bill would also require that the recall be initiated by a majority of the recall and another for the opponents. He would require a majority of signatures in favor of the recall to permit an election being called.

Owens is said to have had a taste of the recall in his own town and although he won out it cost him money and much worry.

The growing popularity of the civic center movement will be given the backing of the state if Senator Lee Bates' bill is successful. Senator Bates submitted a bill last night providing for the use of all school houses for civic centers where the people of the school district may gather and work for the rebuilding of their little civic center. He would place the control and supervision of the center in the hands of the trustees.

FOUR ANTI-ALIEN BILLS.

Four anti-alien bills aimed at the right of Asiatics to own land in the state of California, were introduced in the two houses of the legislature last night, indicating that this subject will be one of the most important to be taken up by the lawmakers. Two Republicans and one Democrat took part in the introduction of these measures. Senator E. S. Birdsall of Auburn, Republican, filing two bills in the senate, Senator J. B. Sanford of Ukiah, Democrat, another and Assemblyman L. E. Carr of Fresno, Democrat, the fourth in the assembly. Carr is a Republican. Assemblyman Hugh B. Bradford of Sacramento, Democrat, also had a bill to present anti-Asiatic ownership of land, but he failed to bring it to the floor. The lower house did not file it.

Senator Sanford's bill is supposed to be similar to the one in operation in Oklahoma. Aliens who are not citizens cannot own land, although the standing of the present alien owners is not affected. To safeguard any attempt that would doubtless be made to evade such a law in California should the bill be passed, Sanford would have the property immediately escheat to the state and be used for the benefit of the schools. This clause was aimed to prevent a transfer of the property to get around the law.

Another provision of the Sanford bill is that when the District Attorney learns of a case where an alien has purchased land in violation of the law he shall institute suit against him. The Birdsall bill does not go into the details of the Sanford measure, but are similar in some respects. Aliens are not estopped in either bill from acquiring a lien on property by securing ownership in the collection of a debt, but they must sell the land within five years after title to the property passes. The right of leasing and renting property is still given the Asiatic.

BARRED FROM OWNERSHIP.

The law provides that no alien shall be extended the right of owning land in California, but otherwise their standing will be similar to citizens of the United States with respect to so-called "unimproved" land. The bill would not affect lands now held by aliens as long as the lands do not change ownership. When this is done the land would have to be transferred to a citizen of the United States.

All aliens who hereafter acquire land, should the bill become a law, would be allowed to hold it for five years, at the end of which period they would have to dispose of it to a citizen of the United States. In the event of the alien acquiring land while yet a minor, he would hold it five years after the date on which he gained his majority.

For any attempted violation, such as a fraudulent transfer, the lands would be forfeited to the state and sold, the fund going to the public school funds in the particular district. Provision is made for the district attorney or attorney general to bring condemnation proceedings where the alien refuses to sell and after deducting the legal costs the money derived from the sale would be turned over to the alien owner.

A good defense to keep the ownership of lands is stated as becoming an American citizen transferring it to an American citizen.

Redemption clauses for lands sold through violation are provided by the bill. The bill also provides that the money derived from the sale of lands sold through violation is to be used for the benefit of the public schools.

The first day's action of the legislature on anti-alien matters clearly indicates that Asiatic exclusion is not proposed to be a partisan matter, but rather a sectional one. While the Progressives indicated to President C. C. Moore of the Panama-Pacific exposition of San Francisco that they were not in favor of legislation against aliens at this time, Senator Birdsall, a staunch Republican, was unwilling to withdraw his bills unless the Democrats agreed not to file some and this the Bourbons would not do.

ANTI-INJUNCTION BILL.

Assemblyman Kingsley, the only Socialist member, introduced his anti-injunction bill.

Perhaps the most peculiar bill presented was that of Assemblyman Bowman who wants to provide for the breeding and sale of American elk and mule deer among other kinds of game. The bill also provides for the sale of fowl. Assemblyman Bowman has in mind domesticated elk ranches, where the fleet animal can be harbored behind a nine-foot fence and raised as a toothsome and plump tidbit for the particular epicurean who craves such choice morsels.

Assemblyman Benedict and Woodley have a bill placing all state officers except those elective under civil service.

Assemblyman Smith introduced the now famous San Francisco waterfront control bill. The bill provides for the placing of control of the marsh lands, tide lands and submerged lands now under the control of the state in the hands of the city of San Francisco. The title of the bill was so phrased that Speaker Young was momentarily deceived and started to refer the bill to the wrong committee, when Assemblyman Schmidt jumped to his feet and said, "Why, that's the waterfront bill!"

WOULD CURB EXPENSES.

The application of business methods to the conduct of the state legislature would greatly minimize the tremendous cost which the taxpayers must meet every time the legislators gather in Sacramento, declares Assemblyman Alfred Morganstern of Alameda, and he is in favor of cutting down the big overhead expense now attached to the legislature.

After witnessing porters and pages and messengers, and after the other, and each entrance wicket guarded by a gatekeeper, Morganstern has come to the conclusion that there is too much indiscriminate patronage being peddled out for the good of the public purse.

There should be two things emphasized in the conduct of the legislature in my opinion, and they are efficiency in the employment of attaches, and economy," declared Morganstern. "The two houses of the legislature should be put on a business and systematic basis and if I can secure some help on the proposition I am going to make some recommendations that will change the present system."

Attaches should not be created for the sole purpose of allowing some assemblyman or senator to make the state pay the political debt of a member, for that is what it amounts to. There should be only enough attaches as are required to do the work. There are too many now on the payroll. A great reform would be reached if an attempt were made to cut this number down because some of the members would not want to interfere with the patronage, but I contend that the patronage scheme should be abolished. Give us a civil service system or something of that nature.

REFERS TO CORPORATION.

"Treating this subject in a purely business manner, imagine a corporation paying $500 a day for help to do the work that is required in the assembly for instance. Why, I would like to take the job for $350 a day."

"That something is wrong with the system, just compare the daily expense of the assembly and of the senate. The assembly with 80 members is spending $500 a day. The senate with 40 members is spending the same amount. The comparison speaks for itself."

"Personally, I did not scramble for patronage and it was only upon the recommendation of another member, who stated that there was a dearth of stenographers, that I consented to ask for the appointment of a stenographer."

Another provision that should be made is in the employment of a staff of attorneys or experts during the legislature to assist those members of the two houses who are not attorneys to draw up bills. The ordinary lawyer who is elected to the senate or assembly does not know how to put his proposed legislation into effect. There are members who are attorneys who are always willing to help him, but they have other things to do. I believe a bureau of experts who will look up the law on any proposed legislation a member suggests and will get it in shape for introduction should be established."

AND WRIGHT LAUGHS.

Senator Leroy A. Wright of San Diego, recognized as the most reactionary of the reactionaries in the forthright session of the legislature, has been laughing at his sleeve ever since the report of the Joint Committee on Rules has been made the burning question of the session. Naturally, being chairman of the committee, he has been laughing at the rules adopted, but as a matter of fact he would not have shed any tears if it had been rejected, for no matter how one figures it Senator Wright has stocked his legislative arsenal with a ammunition that will be used against the present state administration.

This is how Senator Wright has worked to build his own fences down south and to demolish those of the Progressives: He has introduced a bill to amend the constitution to change the punctuation, to do the "it's" and cross the "T's," so to speak, before the bills went to the state printer. Senator Wright has shown how a senator from $20,000 to $30,000 can be made at each legislature. In the past, bills have been sent back to the printer for revision or correction after they were printed and sent to the printer.

No one could dispute the fact that the Revision and Corrections Committee would economize for the state, but some of the legislators were narrow enough to think that such a committee would be a threat to the Progressive south. This afternoon in the Assembly, he was playing a "shell game" on the Progressives, as one of the latter expressed it.

The Alameda county delegation to the legislature will get together tomorrow afternoon and organize and prepare for the coming session. All bills that are introduced that will affect their district, organization was to have been had tomorrow but Senator Tyrrell and Benedict announced that they could not be on hand owing to the press of committee work and asked that it be set over until Thursday. Senators Tyrrell and Strobridge are still leading candidates for the chairman plum.

The Sacramento chamber of commerce will give a banquet on the night of Monday, January 20, to the members of the legislature.

NEW LEGISLATION PROPOSED

Civil Service Board Is Proposed by State Assemblyman

The following bills were introduced yesterday in the Assembly:

By Woodley—A bill creating a state civil service commission of three members, to be appointed by the governor, at salaries of $5000 each per year. The term will be for four years. They will have under them a chief examiner at $4000 a year. The bill is designed to place the employees of the state under civil service control.

DONALD JADWIN SLAYS YOUNG BRIDE AND SELF Dining Room Scene of Terrible Tragedy in San Francisco

August Van Bergen, mother of the slain girl, not knowing that her daughter was dead, she went to her room immediately after the report of the shot fired by Jadwin had rung out.

Lifting the girl's form in her arms, Mrs. Van Bergen hurried with her through the tannery into the kitchen where distressed servants were adding to the excitement with tears and screams.

Dr. C. F. Buckley, 2614 Pacific avenue, was the first physician to arrive. He found Mrs. Jadwin had been dead for several minutes, but that Jadwin was still breathing.

Dr. Buckley advised the immediate removal of Jadwin to a hospital. Dr. Frank Dray, 2525 Fillmore street, and Dr. L. S. Draper, 2510 Washington street, arrived soon after.

NO HOPE FOR JADWIN.
Jadwin was removed to the Loma Hospital, died on the operating table, without regaining his senses. The physicians in attendance realized at once that there was no hope for his recovery, as the brain had been deeply penetrated.

Mrs. Bauer, the grandmother of the dead girl, gave the clearest version of the shooting when questioned after the tragedy.

"I cannot explain it," she said. "The boy must have gone insane. I was just about to see 'Hello, Donald!' as he entered, when he stepped up to Minna and commenced his terrible work. I left the room as I saw Minna fall."

Jadwin looked dazed when he entered the room, declared Colonel Foster, who stated that the whole affair occurred suddenly, and without warning, that it was impossible to interfere.

WAS POPULAR SOCIALLY.
Before her marriage to Jadwin last June, Minna Van Bergen was one of the most popular debutantes in the smart set.

The marriage of Jadwin and Miss Van Bergen was the culmination of a romance on a steamer in 1911. Miss Van Bergen was going to Europe with her aunt, Mrs. Foster, at the time, and Jadwin won her on the steamer.

Jadwin was reputed to be wealthy at the time the engagement became known here and said to enjoy a personal income that made him a most eligible bachelor.

He came here last March and eventually became acquainted with the General Petroleum Company.

His marriage with Miss Van Bergen took place June 7 last at the Van Bergen home in Pacific avenue. Following their honeymoon they occupied a cottage in San Rafael.

Jadwin spent most of the summer playing golf with Frank B. Anderson, president of the Bank of California, who was his brother-in-law. Both were members of the Marin County Golf and Country Club.

WHISPERS OF TROUBLE.
Whispers of trouble between Jadwin and his wife began to be heard recently among the young woman's friends. It was said several weeks ago by one of these friends that there were irreconcilable differences between them and that the marriage was sure to end in the divorce court.

On top of these whispers came reports that Jadwin had financial difficulties, and that he no longer enjoyed the personal income that he had at the time of his engagement.

As evidence of the financial embarrassment came the gossip of his friends that Jadwin was gambling heavily, and that he was playing golf matches for $5 a hole.

Anderson, the brother-in-law of Jadwin, was said to have gone to the financial assistance of the young man several times recently.

WAS NEW YORKER.
Donald Jadwin was a son of Orlando H. Jadwin of Brooklyn, and formerly was associated with his father and several brothers in the wholesale drug manufacturing firm of O. H. Jadwin & Co. of New York. Jadwin left Brooklyn to take up his residence in San Francisco just prior to his marriage last summer.

Frank B. Anderson was summoned early to the scene of the shooting and remained there until the arrangements for the disposition of the bodies and the care of the deeply afflicted mother and grandmother of the murdered woman were completed.

"I have talked with those who have witnessed this terrible affair, and like them I am unable to give any solution of the direct cause for Jadwin's act."

INSANITY SUSPECTED.
Eldridge Green, a cousin by marriage of Mrs. Jadwin, arrived on the scene shortly after the shooting. He could ascribe no motive for the deed beyond sudden insanity on the part of Jadwin.

"There could not have been any other reason Mrs. Jadwin was a beautiful character and loved him dearly, or did at least until very recently. I understand that his actions lately have not been in accord with the ideas."

Friends of the young people in San Rafael were shocked last night to learn of the tragedy. All thought that it was a love match of the first water. Donald Jadwin, according to their friends, seemed to be madly in love with his young bride.

Early last summer he engaged the Jewell cottage, near the Hotel Rafael in San Rafael, taking it for a year. The owner of the cottage is Mrs. Vincent Nade of Solano.

It was stipulated that the rent should be $10 a month for the winter months.

Jadwin gave up the place a week ago, owing rent for October, November and December.

DEFICIT THREATENED IN CITY SCHOOL DEPARTMENT Board of Education Warned That Available Money May Not Meet Demands for by all the taxpayers, is a violation of equal rights and is not within the power delegated to you.

I am not opposed to labor unions, but to their unbecoming policy, and its consequences. An attorney in a large eastern loan association has estimated that the rebuilding of San Francisco cost 50 per cent above normal by reason of limitations, limitations of output and other policies of union labor in that city. By strikes on steamship, in lumber mills, in steel plants, in the use of electric material after it had been bought and paid for, this excess of cost above normal was effected.

Now, that excess is a loss which that unfortunate city must liquidate, the same as if it were caused by fire or other calamity. No well-wisher of Oakland cares to see the same power fastened on this city. Nor is it to the interest of union or non-union labor that this should be done.

Industrial tyranny has worked the industrial isolation of San Francisco, has reduced the number of its industrial plants and the number of its skilled workmen, and driven the demand for manufacturers to other centers.

You are school officers, selected for knowledge and intelligence. Can you put in statement any right of man more sacred than the right to work? The trade guilds in France became so strong that they saw profit in limiting the right of others to labor. After giving many gifts to the king they sought to persuade him that the right to labor was a royal prerogative and that he should forbid it to some and permit it to others.

The royal answer was written by the great Turgot, minister of Finance. Turgot said that man, being created with physical wants, which only his hands could supply, his right to work was as sacred as his life and could not be made subject to royal or other abrogation.

Yet you propose to protect and enforce the right to license labor in Oakland and to use for that purpose the money of all taxpayers! This has been done in San Francisco and at a meeting of the school board of that city it was disclosed that the work on school houses was so badly done that large extra sums should be spent immediately to save the buildings.

Let us all so join in defense of equal rights that Oakland may avoid the blight that is upon San Francisco and that this city may so multiply its industries that all laboring men, union and non-union, may find the jobs hunting them and prosper together. Respectfully,
(Signed) JNO. P. IRISH.

FORREST'S STATEMENT.
"We cannot take chances on legally tying up our buildings by tampering with these bids," declared Director John Forrest, "and we do not want to have trouble with unions, causing delay. Still, Christensen has signed the union agreement and I cannot see how he could have any trouble. We do not force them to employ union labor, anyhow."

"You take the risk of delaying your work," Mr. Christensen does it," said Bradhoff. "Thornally never had any trouble and he has."

Director Boyle moved that the bids be all rejected. This was objected to, as it meant delay, and finally, on motion of Miss Annie F. Brown, the bid was awarded.

WANT TEACHERS' RATING.
Whether journeymen carpenters, employed to teach in the manual training and commercial high school, should have their apprenticeship count as teaching experience was discussed with an application for a raise in salary from two such teachers, who demanded that their five years' apprenticeship, to make them journeymen, should be considered as experience, and they asked the board to place them in the journeyman class, which means an increase in salary.

"That would not be right," declared Superintendent McClymonds. "They took five years to learn their business and not learning to teach others the business. They are getting the same salaries as college graduates, just beginning as teachers, and will get more with teaching experience."

TURKS AND ALLIES TO RESUME WAR

Great Conflict to Be Renewed at Tchatalja Line Before Constantinople.

Bulgaria and Serbia on the one side and Turkey on the other have entirely ceased. Greece, which did not sign the armistice protocol, has continued fighting against Turkey, both on sea and on land, with varying success.

ATTACK ON SCUTARI.
Montenegro, which was nominally a party to the armistice, has been engaged in the interim in many severe skirmishes with the troops forming the garrison of the Turkish fortress of Scutari, which shows no signs of yielding. It is believed that the Ottoman troops there, most of whom form part of the regular army, are fairly well provided with food and ammunition.

Janina in the south of Epirus was the rallying point for Turkish troops who escaped from Monastir and other places in Macedonia and Albania. The Greeks have closed all approaches to the fortress, but the Turkish troops in the north and west the communications are still open.

Conflicting reports as to conditions in the great fortress of Adrianople are current, but it appears evident that the Turkish troops and inhabitants of the city are suffering greatly from disease and lack of supplies. They have been besieged ever since the last week of October by the Bulgarians, who have also been reinforced by large bodies of Serbians. General Boyevitch, the Serbian hero of Monastir, said that within two days Adrianople can be captured.

TURKS REINFORCED.
Before the Tchatalja lines, defending Constantinople, there is a great army of Bulgarians who are strongly entrenched. Fronting them are large bodies of Turkish troops, some of them the remnants of the defeated armies which fled before the advancing Bulgarians and other fresh troops brought up from the Turkish provinces of Asia Minor.

Although the mobilization of the Russian and Italian armies is denied, there is no doubt that Austria-Hungary still maintains her armaments with the object of forcing her claims in the Balkans, especially in Albania.

The plenipotentiaries of the allies remark that the attitude of Austria-Hungary is not so much against them as against Italy, and that for this reason, owing to the rivalry between these two members of the triple alliance, the Balkan states will suffer. They assert that Austria-Hungary is depriving Montenegro of Scutari, only because it is a case that city does not belong to the capital of Albania, Avlona, which is under the direct influence of Italy, will be chosen.

J. FITZMAURICE
DIES SUDDENLY

Resident of This City for 45 Years Passes Away of Heart Failure.

John Fitzmaurice, a resident of this city for forty-five years, a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, and the head of a well known Oakland family, expired suddenly last night from an attack of heart failure. The end came at the family residence, 715 Fifteenth street, practically without warning.

Mr. Fitzmaurice, though 70 years of age, had up to the last retained his vigor and was remarkably active and fond of outdoor life. He had complained somewhat during the last week or two of pain in the region of his heart, but nothing serious was looked for until the fatal attack developed last night.

He was born in New York, May 1, 1841. Fitzmaurice came to this country and served in the Union army with the New York volunteers. After the war he rounded the Horn and settled in Oakland.

Surviving him are the widow, Emily R. Fitzmaurice, one daughter, Daisy L., and two sons, William M. and John H. Fitzmaurice.

The funeral will take place Thursday morning at 11 o'clock from St. Paul's Episcopal church, corner of Bay and Franklin streets, near Lake Merritt.

COMMISSION HEARS RAILWAY PROBLEMS

in the Piedmont hills, and in Berkeley and in Richmond. Are they running the service for the real estate owners, or are they running the service for the patrons thereof? In other words, are they anxious to accommodate the people who have bought land in the sections where they own them? If they have connections, or if they are related, we think we ought to know it so that the rates of it so that the rates affair can be regulated."

Commissioner Thelen interposed and quieted things down with the remark: "If they have put in lower rates in other communities the records are on file here and the facts would be used against them in this inquiry. All the rates are a matter of record, and I don't think it necessary to put into this matter as the situation is not before the commission."

OPERATED AT LOSS.
Alberger had said something about the feeders to the company's main system being operated at a loss and Walker wanted to know what lines he meant.

"Dwight doesn't pay," was the answer. "Ashby doesn't pay; the line on Alcatraz is not paying; the Ninth avenue line doesn't pay and the San Lorenzo line."

"Is that all?"

"The Leona Heights line doesn't pay."

"But that's used for hauling rock, isn't it?"

"If it wasn't for the rock it wouldn't pay at all."

Alberger stated further that the communication rate between Oakland and Richmond was $5, which carried the passenger through to the oil works. He said there was no other communication rate on that line that he knew of. Asked about a through communication rate from Hayward to San Francisco he said it was impracticable because of the changes at Broadway and Poplar junction.

"Why do you have to change? Why can't you run a train from Hayward to the Oakland mole?" pressed Walker.

"The city of Oakland won't allow us to run our cars beyond Poplar junction."

"What do you know about scalping?" asked Walker.

"I first learned of it, I think it was in February last year. Naturally the regular course of railroads would have been to post notices and take up the tickets, which would have caused considerable inconvenience to passengers. We didn't do that. We quietly took up the tickets and paid for the unused portions of them."

SOLD BY INSPECTORS.
The witness admitted that the tickets used for scalping had been sold by inspectors of the road but without the knowledge of the company.

Questioned as to how much it cost to operate the system on the Hayward line alone per mile he said no figures had been compiled, but that for the entire system it was about 15 cents per mile.

Walker wanted to know about the value of the franchise to Hayward and volunteered the information that the company had paid $20 for it originally.

"That was our predecessor," Alberger enlightened him.

"What is the value now?"

"I don't know."

"Don't you value your franchise as one of your assets for the issuance of bonds?"

Commissioner Thelen interrupted with the remark that such a valuation was contrary to law and that if only the regular course of railroads would have been to post notices and take up the tickets, which would have caused considerable inconvenience to passengers. We didn't do that. We quietly took up the tickets and paid for the unused portions of them."

CROSBY IN EXAMINATION.
Attorney Crosby, representing the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, undertook the examination at this point and learned from Alberger that one of his assistants, J. B. Fetter, had direct charge of the men and that many orders came from him.

"But you are vice-president, aren't you?"

"Yes, sir."

"And general manager?"

"Yes, sir."

"Are you an office man entirely or do you get out over the road occasionally?"

"I go out over the road as much as I can."

This ended the questioning and the

YACHT CLUB IS INQUIRY SUBJECT

Charges Made Not Proved to Satisfaction of the Officials.

Sausalito, Jan. 14.—L. C. Pistole, a local attorney and former supervisor, met defeat Saturday night in his attempt to put a brand on the San Francisco Yacht Club, which he charged with maintaining a disorderly house and selling liquor without a license. The charges were heard at a secret meeting of the town trustees, an echo of which resounded throughout the Marin county courthouse yesterday when Pistole appeared there and laid the matter before District Attorney Thomas P. Boyd.

Pistole preferred the same charges against the clubmen about six weeks ago, alleging that at a recent law links of the club four women entertainers from San Francisco taking part in the affair, were insulted and abused by intoxicated clubmen and were provided with intoxicants. The trustees found that the charges, which were oral, were not proven.

Pistole shortly afterwards filed written charges of the same character in which he incorporated a letter from Nellie Clifford, entertainer, who was at the links, which corroborated his charge of disorderly conduct. The matter was not heard until Saturday when the trustees found the charges were unfounded.

Today Pistole took the matter up with the district attorney in an effort to have it brought to the attention of the grand jury.

"I am going to see it through," he said, "and will not rest until an indictment is returned against the officers of the San Francisco Yacht Club."

The former supervisor has secured sufficient evidence to secure convictions and that his case is all ready to lay before the grand jury. Two of the four entertainers, he says, were "out part" in the links and he is on hand to testify before the grand jury.

W. Z. Tiffany, one of the trustees, declared that no attempt had been made to kill the charges, and that they had gone over until Saturday only because more important business crowded them out at former meetings of the trustees.

"Pistole did not prove his charges," he said, "and that ends the matter so far as we are concerned."

CAPTAIN OF SHIP IS LAID TO REST

Funeral Held for Late Master of the Ill-fated Tanker Rosecrans.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—The late Captain Lucien F. Johnson, master of the tanker Rosecrans when she went down at the mouth of the Columbia river last Tuesday, was buried in the National Cemetery, Presidio, San Francisco, yesterday afternoon with full naval and Marine honors. Chaplain Sidney K. Evans, United States Navy, officiated.

A short service was held at the family residence, 29 Johnston avenue, in the Richmond district, for relatives and close friends early in the afternoon. The body was then escorted to the Richmond Masonic Hall and thence to the Presidio by the United States Naval Training Station Band, Verba Benea Island, and a detachment of sailors and marines from the cruiser Albatross, under the charge of Lieutenant R. G. Bartholomew, chief of the local hydrographic survey and a former brother officer of Captain Johnson.

Allegation Lodge, No. 164, Free and Accepted Masons, of which Captain Johnson was a member, held a public funeral service in the Richmond Masonic Hall, which was crowded with friends of the family. Master John Hazlett rendered the Masonic funeral ritual.

The pallbearers were Captain C. C. Moore, Chief Boatswain H. A. Stanley, Ensign Moschbacher, Ensign L. Holmes, Robert E. Allan and James Harris.

Captain Johnson served on Dewey's flagship, Olympia, during the Spanish-American war, and was one of the youngest and most popular shipmasters on the Pacific Coast, being but 30 at the time of his death.

NEW COAST LINE SERVICE TO START

First Ship Will Arrive in San Francisco at End of Month.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—W. R. Grace & Company announced yesterday that the Santa Rosa, the first passenger and freight steamer to commence a regular service between New York and San Francisco and Seattle, flying the American flag, will arrive here at the end of this month, and sail on her maiden trip to the Pacific on February 5.

Until the Panama canal is opened to commerce the Santa Rosa and the three other new steamers that comprise the Atlantic & Pacific Steamship Company fleet will make the voyage via the Straits of Magellan, stopping at Punta Arenas and Valparaiso, Calao, San Francisco and Seattle.

The Santa Rosa is a high class full-powered steamship, built in the Philadelphia yards of William Cramp & Sons. She is of 9000 tons displacement and has a speed of 12 knots. First class accommodation for 50 passengers has been provided, and the voyage by the present route will take 50 days.

The opening of the canal will reduce the voyage to 20 days.

It is expected that by March the Santa Clara, Santa Catalina and Santa Cecilia, which are also in Cramp's yards, will be ready for sea. Each will be of 14,000 tons displacement and of a little higher speed than the Santa Rosa.

STEAMER WEDGED ON ROCKS IN FOG

Uranium Stuck; Tugs Unable to Pull Ship From Resting Place.

HALIFAX (N. S.), Jan. 14.—So firm and fast is the steamer Uranium lodged on the rocks near Chebucto Head, where she ran aground in the fog, that no amount of straining by a fleet of tugs pulled her a foot toward liberty this afternoon. After three ineffectual attempts to float her, one of which threatened to land another vessel, the tug Scotsman, on the ledge beside her, Captain Eustace decided he would have to lighten the ship before she could be extricated.

It was while playing Good Samaritan of the seas that the Uranium came to grief, Captain Eustace said today.

Bound from Rotterdam to New York, she turned out of her course on January 9th to answer a wireless call for help from the steamer Carthagenian. The message said that fire was raging aboard and that it was beyond control. For three days the Uranium groped through the fog trying to find and succor the burning vessel; then the Carthagenian sent word by wireless that the fire was subdued.

The Uranium retraced her track, reaching the entrance to Halifax harbor in a dense fog. The egg island buoy was sighted, but not the intervening buoy, and without this to guide her, the Uranium crashed into Chebucto head.

TWO AVIATORS KILLED.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Two British airmen, L. F. MacDonald and a man named Inglis, were drowned in the River Thames yesterday. They were flying above the river when the machine suddenly swooped downward. Upon coming in contact with the water the engine exploded. One of the aviators clung for awhile to the top of the machine, but he sank before rescuers could aid him.

ELOPING CADET UNDER ARREST

Billings Youth Not Allowed to Resign From West Point.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Jan. 14.—Elmer E. Adler of Billings, Mont., a cadet who ran away a week ago to marry Florence E. Davis in Tarrytown, is under arrest here today, having voluntarily returned to face a charge of absent without leave. He has been stripped of his rank as sergeant, but the military academy authorities have refused to accept the letter of resignation which he submitted, as Adler is not of age.

He will be allowed to continue work with his classes until Commandant Sladen learns from the officials at Washington just what action should be taken in his case.

WAPPENSTEIN WILL NOT BE GRANTED PARDON

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 14.—Governor Marion F. Hay announced last night that he would not pardon Charles W. Wappenstein, former chief of police of Seattle, who is serving a term of from three to 10 years in the state penitentiary for receiving a bribe from a keeper of a disorderly house. Governor Hay made this announcement after he received the report of Special Commissioner Elmer E. Todd, appointed to give a hearing to the petitioners asking Wappenstein's pardon.

STRONG GALE HINDERS ARRIVAL OF STEAMER

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—Passengers on the steamer Francis H. Leggett spent an anxious night at sea while the vessel lay hove to in a heavy southeasterly late Sunday. The steamer put in here yesterday for repairs to her boilers, which were responsible for the breakdown, and for fuel before continuing her voyage from Columbia river to San Pedro.

The Leggett was in the center of a strong southeast blow and heavy seas were running when the engineer notified Captain Anderson that two of the boiler stays had blown out. Repairs could not be effected with the vessel under way, and the skipper brought her up head to the gale. For the greater part of the night, while the engineers toiled to blow the boiler out, the trough of the seas, pitching and tossing with the heavy swells. Although there was no immediate danger, most of the passengers remained up for the night.

Captain Anderson notified the owners, Hicks, Hauptmann & Co., by wireless of the steamer's plight, announcing that he could make port under temporary repairs. The necessary gear to put the vessel in shape was ready upon the Leggett's arrival, and she was able to steam for the south after a few hours' delay.

Coffee "Over-Exercises" The Heart

Normal exercise is healthful. Over-exercise is harmful.

Exercise, up to a certain degree, increases the pulse-rate, causing ample flow of nourishing blood to all the body organs. That is normal exercise. Physicians and Physical Trainers know this.

Over-exercise urges the Heart to excessive action—flooding the body organs with blood. The after-effect is stagnation and decomposition in the tissues—as in the lowlands after a Spring freshet; and toxins (poisons) abound.

These toxins are reabsorbed into the blood stream, and passing through the Heart, poison that organ with the rest.

Over-exercise also causes strain.

Architects know what "strain" means in buildings and in bridges, just as Doctors and Trainers know it in the Human Structure.

When "strain" passes a certain limit, the structure begins to weaken—slowly dis-organize.

So with the Heart.

It can stand so much "strain"—more or less, in different persons. Beyond the individual limit—look out!

When the Heart is compelled to over-exercise and convey a blood-stream filled with toxins—it is serious, in the extreme.

Coffee causes OVER-exercise of the Heart through the "whip" it contains in the form of the drug, caffeine.

This drug increases the Heart's action—even while the individual is at rest. The habitual use of coffee, three or more times daily, forces the Heart to over-exercise.

This produces what Life Insurance Examiners and Physical Trainers term "Coffee Heart."

If you have "Coffee Heart" you can't get life insurance and you can't "go in for athletics"—not much.

But—thousands of former "Coffee Hearts" now beat regularly, supplying the body organs with pure blood in normal amount; are insured and enjoy life.

They have wisely quit coffee entirely and now drink the wholesome, famous food-drink,

POSTUM

Made of clean, hard wheat, Postum contains no coffee or any other harmful substance.

It does not scourge; it nourishes. It does not cause over-exercise of the Heart; it supplies nutrition to that organ and to the blood-stream which feeds and preserves the whole body.

"There's a Reason"

Postum now comes in New Form called

TOOTHACHE HOLDS UP DUKE FOR ONE HOUR

BOSTON, Jan. 14.—Duc De la Morte, a Piedmontese, who says he has come to America to visit the Alfred C. Vanderbilt and other relatives, was delayed an hour yesterday after he arrived on the Red Star liner Manitou. The duke had a badly swollen face, so he was held while a special board of inquiry investigated his case.

The nobleman told the board his grandmother was Elizabeth Davis of New York, and that through her he was related to the Vanderbilts and other families of the 400.

After hearing the story the special board found it was only a plebeian toothache which afflicted the nobleman, so it was decided he was not in danger of becoming a public charge, and he was given the "centro" to Boston and the United States.

SEEKS ANNULLMENT OF HER SON'S MARRIAGE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—Mrs. Bertha Schlesinger of 1832 O'Farrell street petitioned Judge Murasky yesterday to annul the marriage of her 19-year-old son William and Elsie Allen Schlesinger, employed in a ferry candy store.

Judge Murasky took the case under advisement.

Mrs. Schlesinger testified that her son did not have her consent to marry the girl. The ceremony was performed at San Jose last February. William took his wife to his mother's home and she supported them for several months, when, according to her testimony, she drove both from her house because of the girl's actions.

In answer to the court, Mrs. Schlesinger said she sought to have the marriage annulled because she is a widow and needed any small sums her son might be able to earn.

A felony charge of wife abandonment is pending against young Schlesinger in the police court.

The young wife, who lives with her mother at 135 Capp street, is earning $8 a week as a candy girl. In addition to this her husband Willie gives her half of his $10 weekly salary. The court considered this sufficient support.

LOVER KILLS SELF.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 14.—Life without pretty Beatrice Robertson presented so dreary an outlook to Walter E. Leonard, a young chauffeur, that he killed himself in the presence of the girl yesterday when she refused to marry him.

PUTS AN END TO BACKACHE QUICKLY CURES WEAK KIDNEYS

A Few Doses Give Relief, Helps
Lifeless Organs Regain Health,
Strength and Activity.

It is no longer necessary for anyone to suffer with backache, kidney trouble, nerve disorders, rheumatism, or urinary disorders to content themselves with the use of painkillers, or be tortured with rheumatism, stiff joints, and its heart-wrenching pains, for the new discovery, Crocon, quickly and surely relieves all such troubles.

Crocon is the most wonderful remedy yet devised for ridding the system of uric acid and driving out all the poisonous impurities which cause such troubles. It is entirely different from all other remedies. It is not like anything else ever used for the purpose. It acts on the principle of cleaning out the poisons and removing the cause.

It works right in through the walls, muscles and joints, like water in a sponge, neutralizes, dissolves, and makes the kidneys sift out and filter away all the uric acid and poisons from the blood, and leaves the kidneys and urinary organs strong, healthy and well.

It matters not how long you have suffered but how long you are, or what you have used, the principle of Crocon is such that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. There is no start to work the minute you take it, and it relieves you the first time you use it.

If you suffer with pains in your back and sides, or have any signs of kidney, bladder troubles, or rheumatism, such as puffy swellings under the eyes or in the feet and ankles, if you are nervous, tired and run down, or bothered with urinary disorders, Crocon will quickly relieve you of your misfortune. You can secure in original package of Crocon at trifling cost from any first-class druggist. All druggists are authorized to purchase office return the purchase price if it fails in a single case.

POLICE BUSY WITH ALLEGED MADMEN

Epidemic of Insanity Strikes
Oakland in Same Night.

An epidemic of insanity struck Oakland last night, according to the report of Night Captain J. F. Lynch. Lynch and his men were called out on four insanity cases within two hours, this being a record for the Oakland police department.

The report came to the central station that Walter Jones, 1778 Sixty-second street, had become crazed and was suing members of his family around the house threatening their lives with an axe. Patrolmen Gilman and Deke were dispatched to the house.

On their arrival Jones received warning in time to rush from the house into the street. A wild chase through the streets followed, the madman leading the patrolmen into Emeryville, stopping from time to time to flourish the shining axeblade around his head and dare the police to approach him.

Deputy Constable Grewe joined in the pursuit, and Jones was finally brought to bay at the end of a short street in Emeryville which formed a cul de sac. Patrolman Gilman succeeded in dodging one of the whirling axes, and the three officers disarmed the madman and took him to the receiving hospital.

The police were called to the home of Philip Atkinson, formerly a member of the San Francisco police department. They found him at his home, Forest and Claremont avenues, armed with a revolver, with which he is said to have threatened to kill himself and to shoot members of his family. Atkinson was taken into custody on suspicion of insanity.

Dr. E. J. Caldwell, 2447 Randolph avenue, last night asked the police to take his brother-in-law, Dr. C. P. Everts, 3938 Woodcut avenue, into custody on suspicion of insanity. Patrolman Nedderman went to the house.

CITES THE LAW.
Dr. Everts greeted him at the door, assured him that he was mentally sound, and told him that if he entered the house it would be on the risk of violating the law. Nedderman left the place, and Dr. Caldwell was advised to swear out a warrant if he wanted his brother-in-law taken into custody.

Dr. Caldwell informed the police that Dr. Everts had been on a prolonged celebration, lasting about three weeks, and in that time had driven his wife from the house. Mrs. Everts has taken refuge in the Caldwell home.

Dr. Everts responded to a telephone call at his home this morning. "It doesn't seem to me that I am insane," he said. "The report seems to be grossly exaggerated. However, if my wife wants to get her name into the paper, that's her look out. But so far as I can figure it out I'm in my right mind."

The police were called to the home of Mrs. H. Nash, Twentieth and West streets. It was found that the woman was unbalanced as a result of prolonged illness, and was under the care of a physician.

The conference is being held in Oakland at a special request of the local centers and several interesting features including a luncheon, are being planned.

RESPOLD STILL ELUDES PURSUERS

Warden Hoyle Declares Fugitive Is Hiding in Marin County.

SAN QUENTIN, Jan. 14.—In a drizzling rain and with diminishing hope of success in their quest, posers of prison guards and Marine county deputy sheriffs in search of Herbert Respold, who escaped from the prison Friday night, continued the man hunt last night and today, without having discovered the slightest trace of the "perfumed burglar's" movements.

Notwithstanding Warden Hoyle's expressed opinion that Respold is in the county and that his capture is a matter of hours, many of the guards and deputies are convinced that the convict was aided in his escape and that he is now either at sea or speeding eastward by rail.

The theory that Respold's plan of escape was perfected weeks before it was put into execution receives no consideration from Warden Hoyle.

The warden maintains that Respold's plan was not four hours old; that the convict decided at 6 o'clock Friday night to make the attempt to get away, as at that time Hoyle allowed it to become known that on Saturday morning young Respold was to lose his easy job in the warden's office and be put to work in the lute mill.

The federal government joined today in the search for Respold. He is a deserter from the United States navy, in which he enlisted as Mario Island, under the name of Harold A. Roby. The initials of his alias were chosen to agree with those of his real name, which were tattooed on his body.

GREAT DANGER OF FLOOD IS OVER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The flood bulletin issued by the weather bureau today says:

The Ohio river is falling above the mouth of the Great Kanawha river but continues to rise below. The stage at Cincinnati this morning was 61.3 feet, or a foot higher than on Monday, with a further rise indicated.

CONTINUES TO RISE.
CINCINNATI, Jan. 14.—The Ohio river continues to rise slowly here today but it is believed the worst of the flood is over. The rise in the last 12 hours was only three-tenths of a foot. Local forecasters here have predicted that the crest would be reached some time today or tomorrow. Every-thing possible is being done for the 2000 or more families driven from their homes.

COAL SHORTAGE RUMOR IS FALSE

Bunkers Along Oakland Harbor Are All Well Filled With Fuel.

That there is no cause for apprehension of a local coal shortage was stated today by officials of the several large coal handling firms of this city. Because of the cold spell a rumor was started that the city was in danger of a coal famine. At present the bunkers along the local front are loaded to capacity. During the past few weeks over half a dozen big vessels from foreign shores arrived with coal, which, with the supply already on hand, puts the short supply rumor to flight.

For one hundred hours the little steam schooner Jim Butler, Captain Hutton, of the Olson and Minerva fleet, bucked through gale after gale and finally managed to get into port without any serious loss. The carrier came from Bellingham, and according to Captain Hutton the passage was one of the worst of his career on the Pacific.

Repairs on the steam schooner Daisy Gadsby were completed this morning at the yards of the United Engineering Works. The North Fork completed its work in the inner harbor this morning and shifted across the bay. The Bureka was the only other new inner harbor arrival. At Long Wharf the J. B. Stetson is taking on freight for the morning.

What makes a woman hopeful about a situation is for it to be utterly hopeless.

FIVE BROADWAY STORES ARE LOOTED

Two burglars who made energetic efforts to obtain loot from five Broadway stores found that the night of January 13, 1913, was not well chosen for their work. They succeeded in breaking into five stores, in four of which they obtained nothing of value, and in the fifth found only some cash, knives and spoons to reward their efforts.

Reports of the burglaries were made to the police this morning. They were as follows:

F. Zamarelli, 215 Broadway, rear door forced open, nothing taken.

J. Arena, 217 Broadway, rear door broken open and shed entered, nothing taken.

M. Silverman, 221 Broadway, window of rear room broken, forks, knives and spoons stolen.

Continental Machine works, 223 Broadway, rear door forced, nothing taken.

Then, Raulzau, Oakland Commission Co., 215 Eleventh street, offices entered through alleyway and rear door, nothing taken.

Other thefts reported were:

J. Salisbury, 111 Union street, meat market, goose containing $1.70 taken.

R. B. Swaye, rowboat valued at $10 stolen from foot of Eighth street.

Hunt-Hatch Co. business stolen from barn at foot of Webster street.

MOTT CONSULTS LONDON SHIPPER

Oakland Makes Bid for Royal Mail Steam Packet Company's Trade.

Mayor Frank K. Mott and Commissioner of Public Works Harry S. Anderson were in San Francisco yesterday in conference with Mr. Nash, London representative of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, one of the largest London shipping companies.

Nash has come to the coast in connection with the plans of the London company to prepare for the large increase in business with the Pacific coast ports following the opening of the Panama Canal this year. Mayor Mott and Commissioner Anderson presented the plans of Oakland for wharves and docks and other facilities to accommodate deep sea shipping. The claims of Oakland for consideration met with an interested hearing.

ARRAIGNED ON CHARGE OF WIELDING KNIVES

On the complaint of Joseph Conway, an employee of the Southern Pacific company, the police last night arrested J. C. O'Keefe, 314 and Atlantic streets, and George Adams, 1318 Goss street, the charge being assault with a deadly weapon. O'Keefe and Adams were arrested before Judge Mortimer Smith this morning.

The arrests grew out of a fight between employees of the railroad and former employees. Conway told railroad police that he had been attacked, and that one of the men had inflicted a knife wound upon him. Inspectors St. Clair Hodgkins and Thomas Wood made the arrests. Bonds of $200 each have been furnished for the defendants.

Visitors Are Entertained by President Barnett

For the purpose of considering matters which will be recommended to the legislature by the District Attorneys' Association, members of the Sheriff's Association of California met in biennial session today in the administration department of the county jail. Fourteen sheriffs were present. The morning session was devoted to social chat and organization. Those present also discussed the system of regarding stolen property. Among the speakers were Sheriff R. R. Veale of Contra Costa county, Sheriff W. A. Hammill of Los Angeles county and President Frank Barnett of Alameda county.

At noon the delegates adjourned to the Hotel Oakland, where they enjoyed luncheon as the guests of Sheriff Barnett.

LAWYERS DISCUSSED.

The afternoon session was devoted to further discussion of proposed changes in the laws, which materially affect the office of sheriff. The relations of the criminal and civil departments under jurisdiction of the sheriff were gone into and suggestions made in regard to the handling of civil matters.

Owing to delayed transportation facilities a number of members from distant parts of the state were unable to be in attendance. Those present today were: Frank Barnett of Alameda, president; R. R. Veale of Contra Costa, Fred Eggers of San Francisco, J. J. Keating of Marin, H. Trapton of Santa Cruz, J. H. Mansfield of San Mateo, C. E. Ruddock of Orange, E. G. McMARTIN of Ventura, D. A. Boyer of Contra Costa.

At the conclusion of the afternoon session an election of officers to serve during the next two years was held.

ADVOCATES COMMISSION FORM OF GOVERNMENT

Governor Wilson Submits Second Annual Message to Legislature

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 11.—President-elect Woodrow Wilson in his capacity as governor of New Jersey, sent his second annual message to the legislature which convened today. It was his last formal appeal to the Legislature for the completion of the program of progressive legislation for which he declared himself when he took office.

Foremost among the laws advocated are a radical revision of the statutes governing corporations, and better laws in the matter of drawing juries. The governor recommends the commission form of government for cities and speaks strongly in connection with economy in the state administration. In conclusion, he expresses the hope that New Jersey will ratify the constitutional amendments providing for a tax on income and the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

NEED OF ALTERATION.

The corporation laws of the state notoriously stand in need of alteration, the governor says. They are manifestly inconsistent with the interests of the people.

In the all-important matter of monopoly, and as they stand, far from checking monopoly, they actually encourage it. The whole country has set its face against this method of forming vast combinations and creating monopolies, Governor Wilson declares. "I am sure that the people of New Jersey," he continues, "do not dissent from the common judgment that our law must prevent these things and prevent them very effectively."

The governor says the statutes of the state should be amended to provide some responsible official supervision of the whole process of incorporation and provide, in addition, suitable checks upon unwarranted and notorious increases of capital. No legitimate business will be injured or harmfully restricted by such action. These matters affect the honor and good faith of the state, and should be acted upon at once and with clear purpose.

JURY DRAWING NEXT.

After declaring that the state should enact legislation to protect its people from irresponsible persons who offer for sale securities of every sort, the governor turned to the question of jury drawing. "Why has no legislature ever seriously and earnestly set itself to correct this condition?" he asks. "The drawing of grand juries and even upon occasion the drawing of petit juries, is notoriously subject to political influence and control in this state and this can and should be remedied."

While commending the legislature of 1911 for passing the act permitting cities and towns to adopt the commission form of government, the governor urged a fuller extension of the system.

"The path of reform in that field," he added, "is unquestionably the path of greater freedom. The question of municipal government is perhaps the most serious question concerning the organization of methods of government that now confronts us as a nation. I count for New Jersey the honor of showing the way of liberty and self-respecting reorganization."

"The farmer has not been served as he ought," continues the governor. "We have set up and subsidized agricultural schools, horticultural schools, schools of poultry breeding and the rest, and they have done excellent work. But a more effective way still has been found by which the farmer can be served. Lectures and schools and experimental farms attached to schools like laboratories are excellent but they cannot of themselves push their work home. Some states have gone far beyond this and should follow them with zest."

PUTS OUT FIRE WITH SKILL AND A WRENCH

Using a monkey wrench, Patrolman Jack Sherry performed the remarkable feat of putting out a fire which occurred this morning at East Twelfth street and Eleventh avenue. Sherry was the first man to arrive on the fire, and found the owner of the house busily engaged in carrying buckets of water and throwing them on the flames under the stairs.

"Give me a monkey wrench," shouted Sherry.

"You are crazy," called the man. "Get another bucket."

Sherry went to the basement, and after a lengthy search, he turned out the gas. The fire immediately went out, as it was extinguished by a leak in the pipe.

"I guess you haven't called the fire department," said the busy fire fighter.

PUBLIC WELFARE WORK CONTINUED

The Commission to Be Kept in Office for Three Months More.

Continuing the public welfare and censorship commission in office for another three months, an ordinance was introduced in the city council this morning by Mayor Frank K. Mott. There was some question as to the value of passing the ordinance continuing the life of the commission, which would have expired this month, but a petition signed by 200 Oakland residents and the teachers of the J. C. Fremont high school led the council to look upon the matter in a different light.

The petition asked for a continuance of the work of the commission until the report of vice conditions in Oakland, which is now being prepared, should have been completed ready to be made public. It was placed on file.

As soon as the ordinance introduced this morning goes into effect, Mayor Mott will reappoint the old commission. Whether the C. C. Barnard, who is not a resident of Oakland, will be reappointed to head the commission is a question that has not been decided as yet.

26 O'Farrell Street

A Vicarious Defense of Glavis.

In last Saturday's Enquirer appears a whole page defense of Louis R. Glavis, late Secretary of the State Conservation Commission, of which Dr. George C. Pardee is president. Even if the doctor's sore toe did not peep out of every line of this precious effusion, its incoherence, irrelevancy and incoherency would reveal its authorship. The doctor argues in his usual, roundabout, vituperative way in an effort to show that Glavis was not forced to resign.

He could have disposed of the whole question in a dozen words by saying over his own signature that Glavis resigned voluntarily. What his motive was for making a laborious defense of Glavis without stating the charges brought against him by Surveyor-General Kingsbury and without alluding to the evidence produced to sustain the charges, must be left to conjecture. But as the tenor of the defense is quite beside the issue—is vindictive lying, in fact—we suspect that the reputation the doctor attempts to give Glavis is no better founded than the reputation he attempts to give the journals which criticised Glavis' queer conduct and the equally queer way his case was disposed of.

Whether Glavis was forced to resign, but was allowed to slip out the back door and escape exposure that would have been very embarrassing to certain self-righteous gentlemen who have been giving themselves a reputation for virtue by lying about their neighbors, is of small consequence. What Glavis did in the past when he was in the employ of the Federal government is equally beside the point. It is what Glavis has done since he has been in the service of the State of California that is in controversy. Anonymous lying about Kingsbury and about others does not meet the issue, although it may alleviate in some degree the ache in Dr. Pardee's sore toe.

Did Glavis do the things that General Kingsbury charged him with doing? Why was it that the charges were not publicly investigated? Why did Glavis suddenly resign while the star-chamber farce was still in progress? If he was innocent, why did he not stand his ground and demand a vindication—he was in the house of friends? Abusing the Surveyor-General, THE TRIBUNE, former Secretary Ballinger and President Taft does not answer these questions. The tedious twaddle set up as a defense of Glavis in the Enquirer does not answer them. If Glavis was not forced to resign, why did he resign at the moment he did? Tell us that.

It is charged that Glavis, while acting as secretary and executive of the State Conservation Commission, was employed by certain big lumber companies to get their lands listed for patent ahead of other claimants. Is that true? Did he represent the Weed Lumber Company in Washington? Is that true? Bandying stale epithets about is no answer. The anonymous attorney who appears for Glavis in the Oakland Enquirer could have set up the same defense for Marshall Black that he has set up for Glavis. It would have been equally as pertinent and convincing in Black's case as in Glavis'.

The State administration has been as gentle with Black as it could be. He was put out of the Sanhedrin as quietly as possible, and the Holiness Band have let the erring brother go in peace, saying nothing in condemnation, but rather reproving those who criticised him and said he ought to be punished. Black committed the crime of getting caught. Surveyor-General Kingsbury appears to have committed the crime of catching Glavis. Hence he is a vile reactionary and a foe to conservation and reform. How long will this cheap humbug work? It seems a trifle overworked at present.

The Congressional probers have not found the Money Trust they were looking for, but they have found an unhealthy concentration of banking capital, and what is still more sinister, evidence that this concentration has largely been built up on government favors. The favors do not appear to have been extended illicitly or from any corrupt motive; but a custom has been followed, apparently without due consideration, till it has aided in building up a financial oligarchy which exerts an all too powerful influence on the money market, and incidentally upon the industries and transportation agencies of the country. Private corporations cannot safely continue in the free use of large sums of government money, which use not only inures to private profit, but to financial domination. On the other hand, some way must be found to restore to circulation the vast sums collected for the uses of the government. This is a task that will tax the wisest statesmanship, but it is one that must be performed if a perilous condition is to be avoided.

A Queer Idea of Teaching.

The editor of the Chico Enterprise has a queer idea of academic freedom. He was formerly a school teacher, we believe, which makes it all the more remarkable that he should appear as the protagonist of the theory that the heirs of a person who has donated a teaching fund of a college or university should control the selection of teachers who are paid from such funds. He suggests that William Kent should be permitted to veto the appointment of President Taft as Kent law lecturer at Yale University. The Kent chair of law was founded by Congressman Kent's father. The Chico editor thinks Mr. Kent's political disagreements with the President ought to disqualify the latter from holding the position to which he has been appointed. Apparently the Congressman has made no objection to the selection of President Taft to fill the chair founded by his father, but the editor of the Chico Enterprise thinks he ought to have objected and that the trustees of Yale should have accepted his objection as an authoritative veto.

Mr. Kent appears to have more sense than some of his foolish admirers. The rule laid down at Chico would, if accepted, reduce teaching in our universities to a pitiable condition. It would destroy absolutely academic freedom and supersede for it todayism and mercenary partisanship. In this instance petty motives seem to have prompted the promulgation of the theory; still it is a theory to be frowned on and combatted whenever advanced. Freedom of conscience, freedom of mind, freedom of speech are the very vitals of human progress. This Chico editor would confine them in the shackles of local and temporary political disputes, and subordinate them to personal likes and dislikes. In what contempt must he hold the teaching profession!

THE POWERS: "We Discouraged the Chinese Loan; We Forbade War in the Balkans. Now, How Shall We Assert Ourselves Next?"

Judge Archbald's Impeachment.

The judgment of the Senate in the case of Judge Archbald is just, in our opinion, and will meet with the approval of the nation. It may be that Judge Archbald was not actuated by corrupt motives, but the inferences are all against him. To give him the benefit of the doubt is to bring into question his moral sense. The gross impropriety of his dealings in the Katydid culm bank matter is self-evident. A man with so little regard for propriety is not a fit man to sit on the bench. For a judge to solicit favors of corporations having litigation pending before him, through the attorneys of said corporations, admits of no apology or excuse. It is so manifestly improper that it should not be tolerated.

The charges against Judge Archbald were adjudicated with reasonable expedition, yet with due decorum and deliberation. He was given a fair hearing and a full opportunity to present his defense. A majority of the Senators are lawyers, hence the proceedings had all the solemnity and regularity of an ordinary court of justice. The Senators who convicted the accused judge did so with a full appreciation of the responsibilities resting upon them and the responsibilities resting upon the bench. The verdict was a vindication of the constitutional method of dealing with derelict judges. It is a proof that the old-fashioned way of doing things is still efficient, and will appeal to thoughtful people as a vindication not only of sound principles of justice, but of the moral soundness of the high court before whom Archbald was tried.

It cannot be said that the deposed and degraded jurist is the victim of popular prejudice or that he was denied any of the rights guaranteed him by the constitution. All the ancient forms were observed, and the trial was characterized by all the dignity and solemnity such an event merits. Its outcome will strengthen popular respect for the judiciary, and at the same time is a wholesome admonition to wearers of the ermine. Nothing could bring the courts into greater disrespect than to condone such grave affairs against judicial propriety as those Judge Archbald was admittedly guilty of committing.

The only scent Repsold, the perfumed burglar, left behind him when he took French leave of San Quentin, was the odor of incompetence his flight cast on the officials who had him in charge. A clever burglar with a fifteen-year sentence to serve was made a trusty after a few months' incarceration and allowed to go outside the prison walls unwatched and unguarded. He had friends with money on the outside, and what more natural than that he should plan and make good his escape. He was made a trusty in defiance of the wholesome rule that a prisoner must have the bulk of his sentence behind him before he is given the privileges and freedom of a trusty. Repsold was the son of wealthy parents, which seems to explain why he is now at large. He is heir to a considerable estate, and this it was assumed would operate as a bail bond to keep him from running away. His family, social position, education and wealth did not restrain his criminal propensities; he was a thief notwithstanding the absence of all the incentives which usually lead to crime. But the San Quentin officials were silly enough to believe that the nature of the hardened young rogue has completely changed during a few months' imprisonment. Incidentally his flight has revealed a carelessness in the lighting system that should not be overlooked.

GEOLOGIC LIBRARY

The library of the United States Geological Survey is a collection of geologic literature that in degree of completeness can not be duplicated elsewhere in this country. If indeed in the world. In commenting in his annual report on the need of a new fireproof building for the Survey, the director states that this library has a value which can not be easily estimated, since, if destroyed, it could not be wholly replaced, and such portion as is replaceable could be duplicated only at great expense of time and public money.

Although the present rented building of the Survey is constructed of iron and brick, it is honeycombed with light wooden partitions, which present some two acres of surface that could be easily ignited. Even if these wooden partitions should be replaced with fireproof ones the building would still be classed with the third-rate risks because of the lack of protection of the bottom flanges of the I beams that support the floor arches. A fire once started in this large amount of inflammable material would result in quick buckling of the unprotected iron beams and the consequent collapse of the floors.

DEATHS OF PHYSICIANS

During 1912, 2129 physicians died in the United States and the Dominion of Canada. reckoning on a conservative estimate of 150,000 physicians, this is equivalent to an annual death rate of 1413 per thousand. The average annual mortality for the period from 1902 to 1912 inclusive was 1533 per thousand. The average age at death was 60 years and 23 days. The general average at death since 1904 is 59 years, 9 months and 28 days. The number of years of practice varied from 1 to 75, the average being 35 years, 2 months, 14 days. The average for the past 5 years is 32 years, 4 months and 5 days. Thirty-six physicians ended their lives by suicide. Of the 12 homicides, 11 were due to firearms and 1 to a crushing injury from a blunt instrument. Of these 5 occurred in feuds or affrays.

During the year 206 died who had served in the Civil War, and of these 98 followed the fortunes of the Lost Cause, 97 were medical officers of United States Volunteers and 3 were medical cadets. There were 5 veterans of the Mexican War, 17 had served in the Spanish-American War and 10 had seen service in foreign wars. The Army lost 10 medical officers, past and present, 4 officers of the Medical Reserve Corps on the active and inactive lists and 18 acting assistant or contract surgeons. The Navy lost 16 medical officers, the Public Health Service 10 officers and the Revenue Cutter Service 1. The death loss of the organized militia was 21, of whom 9 had attained the grade of colonel-general.

Of those who died, 2 had been members of Congress, 2 governors of States; 11 members of the State senates; 54 members of the house of representatives; 54 had been mayors, 3 councilmen or aldermen, 56 had served in various civil official positions, 11 had been postmasters; 19 editors of medical or lay journals, 15 were also clergymen, of whom 8 were or had been foreign missionaries; 1 had been an attorney; 8 had been members of the diplomatic corps, one of whom was minister to Liberia, and 24 were bankers. These figures are from the annual tabulation of deaths among physicians made by the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Society

MANY important social affairs are scheduled in the short season now left before Lent, the beginning of which will be on February 5, Ash Wednesday, this year, falling on that day. Two large receptions will make bright the January days, the hostesses being Mrs. Frank C. Havens and Mrs. John F. Connors.

Yesterday cards were received by the many friends of the latter announcing a large "at home" on Thursday, January 24, Mrs. Connors planning to receive her guests in her handsome new home in Crocker Highlands. The reception is to be given in honor of Miss Mollie Connors.

For the same day and hour, Mrs. Frank C. Havens had planned an elaborate "at home" to be given at beautiful "Wildwood" in Piedmont. The cards were ready to be mailed, but Mrs. Havens, with the sweetness and rare generosity that has made her such a successful and much-loved hostess, held her cards back, and most considerably changed the date to Saturday, February 1. Her invitations will be sent out today.

Mrs. Havens is giving her large reception in honor of the young bride who has so recently come into the Havens family. She will compliment Mrs. Harold Havens in the large reception which promises to be one of the brilliant dates of the late winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Havens recently arrived from the East and are at the Hotel Oakland.

TO GIVE TEA.

Many social dates bid fair to make bright the remaining days of the season. Tomorrow Miss Priscilla Hall will give a large tea, entertaining a number of guests at her home on Fourteenth street. She is the daughter of Judge and Mrs. S. P. Hall, and the friends of the household represent a large circle.

Miss Hall will be assisted in receiving her guests by her mother, Mrs. S. P. Hall, and by her sisters, Mrs. James P. Kenna and Mrs. Anthony Caminetti (Ruth Hall).

CIVIC LUNCHEON.

The civic luncheon, which will include nearly 300 guests, will be given next Saturday at the Hotel Oakland. The gathering will represent the California Civic League of which Miss Charlotte Anita Whitney is president and Miss Beatrice Trooman, secretary. It is the first time the luncheon has been held on this side of the bay, and the guest list will include many representative women on the coast.

GOLDEN JUBILEE.

The Sisters of the Holy Names at the convent of the Holy Names are planning a large reception in honor of the Golden Jubilee of the pioneer Sister Mary Matilda, and the alumnae of the famous convent and their children are asked to be in attendance at the important reception.

WEDDING INVITATIONS.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin William Kales have sent out invitations for the wedding of their daughter, Rose Eliza Kales and James Brendan Brady. The wedding will take place at half after 3 o'clock on Tuesday, February 4, at the Kales home on Lake street.

The bride is one of the best loved and most popular of the bright young girls on this side of the bay, and many entertainments have been planned in her honor by her young girl friends. But the bride-elect declined all the complimentary affairs arranged by her friends, as there would be so many that it would be impossible to accept them all. The wedding of Mr. Brady and Miss Kales will be one of the most important affairs of the winter.

A HILLSIDE AVENUE LUNCHEON.

A smart luncheon of yesterday was that presided over by Mrs. William Williamson at her home in Hillside avenue. Covers were laid for twelve, and bridge furnished an hour's diversion. The luncheon, the guests, who were members of a small bridge club, included: Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mrs. Lucie May Hayes, Mrs. Tyler Henshaw, Mrs. E. A. King, Mrs. Dan Belden, Mrs. James Pym Neville, Mrs. George Hamner, Mrs. E. P. Adams, Mrs. W. G. Henshaw, Miss Bertha Wilcox.

FAREWELL TO MRS. HENSHAW.

Mrs. E. N. Henshaw will give a luncheon and bridge party Friday afternoon as a compliment to Mrs. E. T. Henshaw, who will leave some time next week.

OAKLAND CLUB LUNCHEON.

An interesting feature of the Charter Day luncheon for the Oakland club tomorrow will be a talk by C. W. Blamsted, immigration secretary, on the work of the immigration committee in San Francisco. Blamsted, who makes his headquarters at the Y. M. C. A. in San Francisco, will be a guest of honor at the luncheon. The Oakland Club has taken up work among the immigrants arriving in this city and Blamsted's talk on work of this sort is looked forward to with keen interest.

ENGAGEMENT OF ALAMEDA MAID.

Among the interesting betrothal announcements of the week was that of Miss Ella Hess, who made known her engagement to John McPeak of Los Angeles at a musicale which gave in honor of Mrs. C. T. Mainwaring, her fiancé's sister. Miss Hess formerly made her home in Alameda. She is a talented musician and is a member of the Chromatic Club, an organization of a few gifted musicians who have been meeting regularly. The members are: Miss Winifred Mastick, Mrs. Lillian Hess, Miss Isabelle O'Connor, Miss Bess O'Connor, Miss Mary Van Orden, Miss Helen Sutherland, Mrs. Ralph Kirkham Blair and Mrs. Harvey M. Toy.

McPeak, who comes from a prominent family, is assistant secretary of an oil company in the Southern city. The wedding will be an event of the spring.

FRATERNITY DANCE.

The Kappa Alpha Phi will be hosts on the night of Saturday, January 18, at a large ball which is being anticipated by the younger set. Tickets have been put out to over five hundred of the best of the city and will be sold at the club.

MRS. HOLT IS HOSTESS.

Mrs. E. J. Holt was hostess to the Sixty-Three Club this afternoon at her home in Alameda. The membership of the club is composed of about twenty society matrons of the Principal City who meet every two weeks for an afternoon of cards.

BRIDGE AT COUNTRY CLUB.

In honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Carlton Parker, Mrs. Challen Parker will entertain at the Claremont Country Club on January 21 with an afternoon of bridge.

Mrs. and Mrs. Carlton Parker have recently returned from an absence of several years abroad and are being cordially welcomed by their friends.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

NOVEL AFFAIR FOR WHITE HOUSE PLANNED

Former Presidents' Families to Meet in Future for Big Dinner.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Former presidents' widows, sons and daughters for a big White House dinner to be the latest scheme of Washington society.

The recent dinner given by Mrs. Taft to Mrs. Grover Cleveland and Mrs. Benjamin Harrison is responsible for the new plan, the first of which was with Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, who will be the next mistress of the White House.

After March 1 there will be two former presidents. There are three widows of presidents living, Mrs. James A. Garfield, Mrs. Cleveland and Mrs. Harrison making the trio.

There are many sons and daughters of presidents living, representing nearly all the administrations from the time of Lincoln to the present, and at least one going beyond Lincoln—John Tyler, son of President Tyler, who lives with his family in Virginia. It would be out of the question to hold a reunion of descendants of presidents beyond the first generation unless some public hall was obtained.

The former presidents' widows of former presidents and the sons and daughters of former presidents would make a goodly company at a table, and if the idea strikes Mrs. Wilson favorably she may be a social feature in Washington before the new administration is old.

Many Roman Noses

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Statistics to prove the Roman nose is not a rare thing in Chicago were offered yesterday by Mrs. J. Bruce Hurley, a South Side matron.

Miss Edna Paulsen, the girl with the $2000 nose, has stirred up the controversy.

The last school census shows 41,553 girls of the developed nose age in Chicago. Girls under 12 years have only an indeterminate idea what sort of nose Nature has handed them. Of the noses thus enumerated 21,000 are of the "Roman" variety. Celtic in origin and saucy of demeanor. There are 100,000 approximately of the "indeterminate type" that comes of racial intermixture, the Slav type predominating, which is neither Roman nor reticent, but as distinctive as either.

The balance are noses commonly referred to in the rivalry of the school yard as "hooky," but by no means all of these are Roman. The Roman nose is an exclusive possession of perhaps 25,000 Chicago girls and boys.

Mrs. Hurley describes a nose as follows:

"The nose is the torment of a girl's life when it is in the formative stage. 'The nose is the final element in determining a girl's personality.' 'A nose is the foremost indicator of human character and caste. 'A nose may handicap its possessor during her youth, yet yield fame in its maturity.'"

"Artists rave over Mrs. Hurley's nose," said the proud husband, "but the baby won't let her pose as anything but 'mother.' They want her as Cleopatra or some other high falutin' character, but baby won't stand for it. I think my wife is satisfied with her nose for me and the baby just as 'mother.'"

Says Women Gamble

LONDON, Jan. 11.—Astounding revelations of gambling in London's exclusive West End were made yesterday at Westminster police court when two men were fined $200 each for conducting a gaming house in a fashionable thoroughfare of London. The men were found in the house which showed large amounts were lost and the plaintiffs to which losses, who included women prominent in society, were reduced.

Indicted by the 200 or more of the younger set who will be bidden. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. William H. Hight. Those holding chaperon tickets, which may be obtained from Mrs. J. L. Scaphran, are requested to present them at 11 o'clock on the evening of the dance. A supper will be served in the large dining room after the dance.

MISS PARR TO BE HONORED.

Mrs. Warren McKibben has sent out cards for a bridge party at her residence in San Francisco in honor of Miss Margaret Parr, who was announced last week. The affair will be given Thursday afternoon, January 23. Complimentary festivities for Miss Parr will be given frequently from now until the date of the charming girl's marriage.

VISITOR AN HONORED GUEST.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Downey entertained at a merry party in honor of Miss Lillian La Vaché Gilmore of Louisville, Ky., on Friday evening at their home. Mrs. Downey was assisted in receiving by her daughter, Miss Gladys Louise Downey, and Miss Margaret Warnock. Covers were laid for twenty-five at an elaborate supper after the evening's entertainment.

The affair was a farewell to Miss Gilmore, who, with her mother, has been spending the winter with Mr. and Mrs. W. T. McNally. Among the guests were Miss Margaret Beckett, Miss Goldie Robinson, Miss Lulu Warner, Miss Gertrude L. Warnock, Mrs. Harriette Robinson, Miss Hazel Shiley Downey, Frank Smith, Arthur R. Smith, Gladys Robinson, Carl J. Warnock, Charles S. Cowan, James Warnock, W. T. McNally, Oscar J. Downey and Mrs. L. D. Gilmore, Mrs. C. Warnock, Mrs. W. T. McNally, Mrs. Annie R. Downey and Mrs. O. J. Downey.

BRIDGE PARTY BY MRS. WALKER.

Mrs. Forest Walker has invited twenty-five of the best of the city to a bridge party at her home in East Oakland, on January 21 with an afternoon of bridge.

MRS. GRIFFIN ENTERTAINS CLUB.

The English room at the Hotel Oakland was the scene of a delightful affair yesterday when Mrs. Thomas Griffin entertained the members of the Cosmos Club at luncheon and cards.

SANE BEAUTY

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

Copyright, 1912, by Lillian Russell.

MUCH is being said by clever people concerning the most beautiful age of woman. After much thinking on the subject I have arrived at the conclusion that a woman is most beautiful at the sane age—whatever that may be. It is the age of responsibility. Women are only made worldly by hard knocks—whether from illness, loss of husband, children, wealth and power or religion. Only when bereft of the mental mainstay and object of devotion do women become what men call worldly, or world wise. Responsible, sane women are another class. They are the women who have things and people dependent upon their ability, knowledge and good health. It is at that stage of life women sanely conceive their knowledge and powers for doing the best with them. At the age of responsibility a beautiful woman thanks God for what he has endowed her with and resolves to use it only for the good of his people. Some women never arrive at that state of mind until they hold an infant upon their breast and realize what a wonderful responsibility they hold in this world. Some women never experience that sensation and find their responsibility when they realize that they really love. Realization is pure sanity, the state of mind that accepts the inevitable for her uplifting. Fearing nothing fills a heart with more godliness than can be imagined and that beauty of godliness is reflected gloriously upon the face in sane stately radiance. Men may fear such beauty, but when the heart of its possessor is won it is for all time and eternity, and her pure, sane mind will condone, forgive, approve and adore as may be required of it. Her sanity has been gained from a knowledge that there is but one God—and he is not a man god, but spiritual and perfect. She knows that no one has a privilege that she does not enjoy and that all her real happiness is within herself. Such a woman is the most beautiful to look at, to know, to love, for she is absolutely sane.

WORRIED—An overlarge waist by no means indicates strength in this part of the body, and in order to reduce girth safely one must begin by increasing strength naturally. A number of exercises are suited to this purpose, and individuals can try them in turn and abandon those which do not seem comfortable and helpful to them. One of the best is also of a nature that requires more in the beginning than to strain muscles unused to the movement. The first requisite of every movement is a knowledge of how to stand properly, and a general rule for this is to stand with the stomach drawn in, the chest thrown out, and the small of the back curving inward. In this attitude tense the muscles and stretch the hands to the one side on horizontal lines, one a little above the other, in the position which they naturally assume. Then swing the hands over to the opposite side. With the muscles tensely stretched this movement is at first somewhat painful and must be practiced with care and increased as one becomes accustomed to it, and the waist grows strong and supple.

T. J. K.—For that continual tired feeling I would advise you to live outdoors just as much as you can, remembering that the value of this life depends entirely upon the way you exercise your lungs in breathing. Oxygen has been called the divine tonic. And nature gives us each a prescription calling for enough fresh air to fill both lungs every three seconds. If this does not seem possible for you to follow, then go outdoors for not fewer than six times a day and rise on your toes, lift your arms shoulder high, and breathe in the breath of life to your fullest capacity 25 times. Lower the body to normal position and let the arms fall with every expiration. Deep breathing together with pure food and pure water will purify the blood. I shall be happy to send you instructions for deep breathing if you will send me a stamped addressed envelope.

DOROTHY—A simple exercise which will soon develop the arms if practiced daily is as follows: Extend the arms horizontally, then imagine a heavy weight in each hand; slowly force this weight up until the palms of the hands meet over the head, at the same time resisting the effort to raise the weight. Lower the arms and the weight in the same manner.

SCHOOL AND PLAYGROUND

WORK ON REVISION OF O. H. S. LAWS

Students of the Oakland High School are waiting for the report of the Constitutional revision committee, which will be ready within a fortnight. It has been submitted to the students' council for approval, but they have not returned their decision as yet. If it is accepted by the council, the matter will be referred to the student body to vote upon the measures as a whole.

The new constitution embodies much of the old, and changes only a few important parts. There is, however, a great degree of transference of duties, most of which have been deemed wise by the committee. Under the new constitution, as we have previously printed, the Student Association officers will consist of a president, secretary, treasurer, four commissioners, and the editor of the Girls' Aegis.

ELECTIVE OFFICERS.

Such officers as the auditor and the associate editors of the Aegis, will be appointed instead of elected, and the managerial officers will in most cases be filled by the graduate managers.

In the new constitution many tasks are assigned to the graduate manager. He appoints the manager of the Aegis and of the bulletin, and he manages the cafeteria and book exchange. While not having the power to appoint team managers, he has supervision over their work, and considerable power is given him in the selection of the team managers. To fill this position, a salary, to be fixed by the commissioners, has been provided for. The constitutional establishment of this office, the school has found a remedy for the great leakage and mismanagement hitherto very common.

ELAINE HILLS.

During the winter season Elaine Hills, a clever juvenile dancer, will take part in a number of entertainments. For several years the talented youngster has been in the limelight and has won a reputation as an actress. In fraternal and social circles she has often assisted in the program.

Many girls of the younger set will contribute to the season's gayeties. Numerous affairs will be given in the schools, wherein the ability of the children will be displayed.

Folk-dancing exhibitions will be presented in the schools, as well as the institutions, where graceful girls will appear in the European dances.

SEMI-ANNUAL DANCE WILL BE GAY AFFAIR

Bids have been issued by the low senior class of the Oakland High School for its semi-annual dance next Friday evening in the gymnasium, Twelfth and Jefferson streets. The music will be furnished by the high school orchestra. The committee organizing the affair is headed by Harold Agdelotte, with a company of assistants, Harold Bote, Raynor Gimbal, Margaret Morrison, Ruth Oliver and Louise Mills.

It is a member of the Senior class, a social dancing society will be among the guests on that occasion. The dance given by these societies marked one of the most successful functions held within recent years in that institution. Lloyd Cobblethick was the chairman. He was aided in planning the function by Clifton Gordon, Harold Bote, Jack Learner, Harold Agdelotte, Carl Watson, Ted Sarge, Conit Jacobs and Olive Hayes.

Promotions in the Rank to Cause Vacancies in the Department.

Positions to Be Filled by Appointment From the Eligible List.

Positions to be created by city ordinance in the police department will be filled by appointment by Commissioner P. C. Turner, so far as eligible lists exist at present and tonight the civil service commission will meet to take examinations for promotions in the police department to fill the other positions.

Many of the vacancies, which will occur as a result of promotions in the ranks, will not be filled immediately, although there is sufficient money in the police fund to carry the increase in salaries asked for by Chief of Police Walter J. Petersen for six promoted men. As soon as the budget for the next fiscal year has been fixed, however, the new places to be created and the vacancies occasioned by promotions to these new places will be filled. The increase in the force will cause an increase in the police salary roll for the coming fiscal year of $22,080.

PLANS ARE CHANGED.

Part of the increase is caused by the change in plans in connection with moving the city jail to the new city hall. It was at first planned to move to temporary quarters in what is to be eventually the city hall, but the engine of the fire department in the lower floor of the new city hall. Following a conference between Chief Petersen, Commissioner Turner and Supervising Architect J. Donovan, it was decided that the permanent quarters for the city prison could be fitted up more conveniently and at less expense for the transfer of the city jail to the new city hall and it was ordered that this should be done instead of providing temporary quarters.

The lower part of the new municipal edifice.

The thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth floors of the new city hall are therefore being prepared for the new jail and in a few days the iron and steel cells in the basement of the old city hall not in actual use will be unbolted and taken to the high jail in the new hall to be put together again.

WORK FOR WOMEN.

Women's quarters will also be provided and it is probable that a matron will be appointed to be on duty at all times. This will necessitate an increase in the number of policewomen employed on the Oakland force.

The civil service commission will probably declare examinations for promotions in the police department for Captains, Lieutenants, Sergeants, Corporals, Inspectors, Assistant Inspectors and Jailers, and an examination may also be held for an additional matron for the city jail.

Patrolmen William Emigh, Thomas Gallagher, Thomas Wood and George Powers, who have been acting as inspectors for a year, will be appointed assistant inspectors as soon as the ordinance just introduced goes into effect, as they have already qualified for promotion by taking examinations.

FOOTPADS TAKE
COAT OF VICTIM

"It Fits Nicely," Is Comment of Bandit on Trying on Garment.

After holding up Paul Noble, 1324 Linden street, and robbing him of a gold watch, scarf pin and $30 in coin, two thugs suddenly decided that they could make good use of Noble's rainproof army overcoat and gold-headed umbrella, as the rain was pouring down.

"Just hold my revolver one minute," one thug said to the other. "I want to try on this overcoat."

The coat fitted nicely. "Now you take the umbrella, and we'll be all right," the robber commented, after turning up the collar of Noble's coat around his ears. The hold-up occurred at Twelfth and Poplar streets about 11 o'clock last night. Noble watched the two men go down the street and take a Sixth-street car toward town. Then he notified the police.

The two thugs apparently left the car almost immediately, and went by another route to the southern part of the city, for within about half an hour they held up and robbed Alfred and Manuel Rose, two brothers, living at 321 Henry street. The second hold-up occurred at Fifth and Henry streets. A watch and $10.50 in coin were taken from the two brothers.

Captain J. E. Lynch and a posse searched the neighborhood, but found no traces of the two hold-up men. According to descriptions furnished, they were young, fairly well-dressed and carried revolvers. At the time of the second hold-up, one of the robbers carried an umbrella, while the other wore Noble's large overcoat.

JACK JOHNSON
DENIES HE'S HIDING

Declares He Had No Intention of Violating the Law.

Champion and Party Recognized on Train. Bound for Toronto.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—The first information regarding Jack Johnson's flight from the city was given by the publication in a local newspaper of a telegram from a passenger who recognized Johnson and his party in the train. Charles S. Dewdney, superintendent of the department of Justice in Chicago, wired the police at Battle Creek to arrest Johnson.

Shortly after his arrest Johnson called Superintendent Dewdney by telephone and explained that he had no intention of staying in Canada or making an extended trip. He said he had no thought of violating the federal laws or attempting to forfeit his $50,000 bond.

INDICTED BY U. S. COURT.
Johnson was indicted several months ago by the federal grand jury for alleged violation of the Mann act and is at liberty on bonds. He is also charged with smuggling valuable jewelry into this country for his white wife, Etta Johnson, who committed suicide a few months ago. The latter case is pending in the United States court.

The Mann act violations are not extraditable and for this reason Johnson had no right to leave this country, the federal authorities assert. His payment on the train of cash fare to Toronto indicated his intention to go to Toronto, say the police.

ATTORNEY PROMISES.

Application was made to United States Judge Carpenter for a bench warrant for Johnson's arrest as a fugitive. The court declined to issue the warrant when Attorney Bachrach, who appeared for Johnson, said he would produce his client in court tomorrow morning.

Attorney Bachrach said that Johnson would voluntarily return to Chicago and that an attempt would be made again to have him admitted to bail. Because of his leaving the jurisdiction of the court federal authorities will urge that Johnson be not admitted to bail.

Before his attorney agreed to return Johnson it was planned to send deputy marshals after him.

SHES AT PATROL WAGON.

BATTLE CREEK, Jan. 14.—Johnson is said to have at first insisted that the local authorities had no right to detain him, but when a patrol wagon came in sight he left the train without further complaint.

He said he did not wish to violate any of the terms of the bond insuring his appearance in the United States district court and simply intended to go to Toronto to consult with Tom Flanagan, his former manager, regarding a proposed fight with Al Palmer in Paris. He claimed that the latter's manager had offered to arrange a fight for $25,000. Chicago detectives were expected to arrive here about noon.

University Instructor Censures Judiciary in U. of C. Volume.

Professor Reed Declares That the Law Is "Slow and Uncertain."

BERKELEY, Jan. 14.—Censure of the judiciary, survey of public administration in state and nation, and recommendations for the correction of defects in government are contained in a document written by Thomas H. Reed, associate professor of government at the University of California and published by authority of the university.

Professor Reed makes the assertion that socialism is inevitable unless the reforms enumerated by him are applied.

"At present the courts are not genuinely respected, because they are not respectable, yet respect for the courts lies at the base of civilization," says Professor Reed.

HERE ARE CHIEF CAUSES.

He summarizes the chief causes for the conditions that he censures, saying:

"Slowness and uncertainty of justice. 'Narrow technicality, which leaves the poor defenseless.

"A carrying over far of the doctrine of injunction until the great laboring class looks upon the judiciary as its natural enemy.

"Undue devotion to the interests of property."

Professor Reed asserts that five reforms will restore to the courts the dignity that should be theirs.

REFORMS ARE FIVE.

These reforms are defined as:

"A judiciary of highly paid experts, appointed for good behavior.

"The levying of semi-annual, harder work by judges in other cases by three-fourths of the jury.

"Reform of legal ethics.

"Provision for easier amendment of the United States constitution."

Professor Reed recommends the adoption of the short ballot and direct elections and he says that he would have only three elective executives—governor, lieutenant governor and controller.

To the governor he would bestow amplest appointive powers.

These views of Professor Reed are contained in a syllabus that is the first publication of the new university extension department.

WILSON PROMISED
UNITED SUPPORT

Democratic Leaders in Senate to Stand by President Elect.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—President-elect Wilson's declaration at Trenton yesterday that he would "pick only Progressives" for the work of the new administration, brought from Democratic leaders of the Senate today statements that the new President would have the support of a united Democratic majority in the senate when he began his presidential term.

Efforts to unite the Democrats with the control virtually given the progressives have been so far so successful that leaders predict there will be no open break in the organization of the new senate. The reorganization element, it is believed, will yield to the chairmanship of committees to the older senators entitled to them by rank, but will insist upon a full vote in the control of each committee and in the selection of its members.

Senators Martin and Hoke Smith, recognized as the leaders of the Democratic forces in the Senate, both refused to see in the remarks of the President-elect any special reference to the situation in the Senate and both predicted a harmonious settlement of all differences in the body.

"WHY SURPRISE?" HE ASKS.

"I don't understand why any Democrat should be surprised at the declaration of Governor Wilson that he is in accord with the progressive policies of the day," said Senator Martin. "I am sure he will find the Democratic party in the Senate solidly with him in the views he expresses. I certainly know of no dissent from them."

Senator Smith said: "I do not apprehend any discord between the Democratic and the Progressive forces. I believe that a harmonious plan of reorganization will be adopted practically doing away with the old hard and fast lines of seniority and yet recognizing the value of the services of those who have been for a long time in the Senate."

YEARS CHARGE.

$405,000 SOON
AVAILABLE FOR HARBOR

Waterway Bill Contains Appropriation of $275,000 for This City.

Unexpended Balance in Treasury Amounts to $135,000.

Printing the information of the making available of $405,000 for harbor work in the Oakland estuary, a telegram was received from Congressman Joseph R. Knowland this morning by Mayor Frank K. Mott and read to the city council. The estuary is being dredged to a depth of 35 feet for a width of a 500-foot channel.

Congressman Knowland also gives statistics concerning tonnage and shipping in Oakland harbor. The telegram follows:

Hon. Frank K. Mott, Mayor of the City of Oakland, Cal.

"The rivers and harbors bill contains an appropriation of $275,000 for Oakland harbor, which is the full amount recommended by the local engineers. There is an unexpended balance of $135,000, which makes available $405,000 for improvements this year.

In the annual report of the chief of engineers for 1912 the net registered tonnage of vessels entering Oakland harbor is given as 3,452,271 tons. In the report for 1911 the total was given as 1,250,961 tons, this being a gain in net registered tonnage of 2,201,310 tons. The value of cargoes in 1911 was $138,059,278 and this year $141,250,000.

With the canal bridges open, the increase for this year will undoubtedly be even greater.

(Signed) J. R. KNOWLAND.

BANDIT HOLDS UP LOS ANGELES STORE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 14.—An unknown bandit walked into a confectionery store in the fashionable Westlake district last night, lined a dozen occupants against a wall and ordered them to keep their hands up while he appropriated the contents of the register. He made his escape with $17. No attempt was made to rob the patrons of the place.

"Fifty Years Ago, When Golden Wedding Rye Was Young"

When you're choosing a whiskey, elect this old brand for its mellow, mild flavor—for the qualifications that make it the leader—dependability—its known past reputation—and its present-day honest worth!

Finch's Golden Wedding Bottled in Bond

These qualities are due to its unequalled purity. It is distilled by its own special and different formula and process. These are worked out with one object—to preserve its wholesome purity from grain to consumer. Keep it on your sideboard, or in your medicine chest for family use. See that it has the Government stamp over the cork.

PACKARD EXHIBIT AT MOTOR SHOWS

Detroit Plant Is Featuring Convenience of the New Control Board.

(By EDMUND CRINNION.)

Convenience in operation is a characteristic of the three motor carriages exhibited by the Packard Motor Car Company at Madison Square Garden Auto Show this week. The features that are being emphasized are the left drive, electric self-starter and the centralized control. The left drive, in conjunction with the positive starter, permits occupants of the motor seat to step into the car from the curb.

The Packard control board places the starting, lighting, ignition and carburetor controls on the steering column directly under the driver's hand. No attachments, except saucers, gas and priming button remain on the dash. Motor efficiency under all conditions is insured by separate dual ignition, with magnet and storage battery, both of which are entirely distinct from the starting and lighting equipment. An acetylene primer, furnishing a highly combustible gas, facilitates starting in extremely cold weather.

The three Packard carriages selected for the New York show are the limousine, cabriolet and phaeton of the 28" model, known as the smaller six-cylinder Packard.

The limousine is shown in the standard finish, body and door panels, Packard blue upper body, black. It is upholstered in gray plush.

The cabriolet, an original and exclusive French type, is a gentleman's town car. Its enclosed compartment seats two, the driver occupying the open seat. The body and door panels are finished with gray wickerwork. Other body parts are of standard black. The compartment is upholstered in tufted gray broadcloth.

Body and wheels of the phaeton are Venetian white with black striping, the small door panels being black, covered with white wickerwork. Upholstering is standard.

CAR PERFORMS USEFUL STUNTS.

John W. Kelly, a rancher near Santa Rosa, and an intimate Stoddard booster, dropped into the offices of the Standard Motor Car Co. yesterday and told a story of the adaptability of his Stoddard "38" which made those who listened sit up and take notice.

"I certainly make my car pay for itself," said Kelly, "and while it is one of those touring affairs, I demand that it cover a much wider range of usefulness. When we are not riding around the country in the machine, we just convert it into a tractor, engine, pump, and so on, and today it is the most useful and profitable article on the ranch."

"We churn considerable butter, and by running a belt from the front of the timing gear to the churn get results equal to gas engines built expressly for the purpose."

"Sunday is our day for making ice cream, but not by the old system of cranking the freezer by hand. We just hook on a belt to the Stoddard engine and in ten minutes have a delicious quantity of ice cream that would make your mouth water."

"When we have an ax to sharpen or knives to grind, the motor is called upon to do the work, operating an emery wheel, which is a waste."

"Many other ways we apply that engine to with equal success. One day my engine broke down which supplies water for the irrigating ditches, and while repairs were being made I just attached the Stoddard, which proved a fitting substitute."

"Different than most gas engines, our Stoddard has the advantage of being portable under its own power, and thus it serves in different capacities all over the ranch. No mechanical trouble has ever been and it runs all day long the engine is pumping away, making itself useful. It has answered my many purposes for over a year, and I consider the tests I have given it extreme for a motor built for pleasure, and not as a piece of farm machinery."

"I have bulletin boards installed in all of my passenger depots as provided by General Order No. 217. If not, to what extent has said order been complied with, and state approximately what date bulletin boards will be installed in depots not now so provided."

"Have the necessary instructions been issued to agents to post the time of arrival and departure of passenger trains, as provided by the order, and also to dispatches to furnish information to agents relative to late trains? Furnish copies of such instructions to the following:

"State to what extent the waiting rooms of passenger depots on your railroad are now provided with proper facilities for keeping name properly lighted and warmed."

"Please let us have your immediate reply."

DIRECT ELECTION IS FAVORED BY COX

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 14.—In his first message to the general assembly, delivered to that body today, Ohio's new governor, James M. Cox, strongly favored the direct election of United States Senators, the short ballot, the establishment of a long term farm loans, compulsory workmen's compensation, reduction in the hours of labor for working women and a law based upon a recent amendment to the State's constitution to shorten legal procedure.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The first "pork barrel" appropriation bill of the present session of Congress was reported to the House yesterday, when the House passed the bill by a vote of 219 to 191. The bill provides for the improvement of rivers and harbors throughout the country. The committee agreed on the measure after a stormy session that lasted several hours.

The largest single appropriation in the bill provides $6,000,000 for the improvement of the Mississippi river to the mouth of the Ohio. An appropriation of $1,000,000 is provided for the improvement of the mouth of the Columbia river, Oregon.

Among the important appropriations in the bill by States:

PLEADS TO RETURN TO GYPSY FRIENDS

Girl Changes Her Mind and Withdraws Charge of Cruelty.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 14.—Fifteen-year-old Evelyn Mitchell, who sought the protection of the juvenile authorities several days ago with a story of abuses suffered at the hands of her foster parents, John and Mary Grech, Servian couple, changed her mind in court yesterday and pleaded to be allowed to return to the nomadic fortune telling life she had lived for eight years.

The girl's plea was met by the juvenile officers, inasmuch as she had not been in communication with the authorities since she was given refuge by them. She declared that she had lived in the open so long that she could not stand indoor life and that she had been uncomfortable, ever since she had been taken to the city.

"They were really never bad to me," pleaded the girl, "and I want to go back to them. I have no other home. They wanted to sell me to a gypsy in San Francisco for $1700. It is their custom to sell their daughters into marriage. I was married to a man named John Grech, who appeared in court, produced adoption papers issued by Butte, Montana, in 1906, after he had taken her from an orphanage at Helena. He also informed the court that he was the owner of a big house in Montana."

The girl was ordered detained until the court could communicate with the orphanage. One of the probation officers suggested that the real reason for the girl's desire to return to the gypsies was because she had been compelled to take up with them when her mother, Mary, said she had not undergone in eight years.

Mrs. Izard made statutory charges against her husband, now in the Philippines, when she was a daughter of Major General William P. Izard, commander of the marine corps.

Had Serious Lung Trouble; Now Well

Somewhat there exists a vast amount of skepticism as to the possibility of curing Consumption. We state none but facts, and are sincere in what we assert. If we were afflicted with Tuberculosis, we should do precisely what we ask others to do—take Eckman's Alterative promptly and faithfully. The reason should be that we have reports of many recovered cases of which follow:

"1619 Susquehanna Ave., Phila., Pa. 'Gentlemen: For two years I was afflicted with hemorrhage of the lungs, the result of a severe cold. I had been a family physician and advised another climate, as to remain would probably be fatal. However, I was cured by Eckman's Alterative. I was taken with a severe attack of pneumonia. When I recovered sufficiently to walk about the house, I was left with a frightful hacking cough, which medicine I had taken could alleviate. It was at this time, March, 1912, that I learned of and started taking Eckman's Alterative. I have now been well. Since that time I have had two slight attacks of pneumonia and I have recovered in a few days. I am now well and have no more of the coughing. I can not speak too highly for the good it has done."

(Signed) "HAROLD L. KLOTZ" Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Trouble, and in unyielding coughs. It is a powerful expectorant, a cathartic, a blood-purifier, and a general health-giver. It is sold by The Owl Drug Co., 301 E. 12th St., St. Paul, Minn. Ask for booklet "Curing of Consumption," and write to Eckman's Laboratories, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional literature.

UNDESIRABLES COMING, DECLARES WADDELL

SYDNEY, New South Wales, Jan. 14.—Disaffection with the class of immigrants arriving from Britain found expression in the New South Wales Parliament yesterday, when Mr. Waddell, a former prime minister, said that numerous undesirables were coming, including a good sprinkling of criminals.

Dr. Arthur stated that many immigrants were suffering from consumption and other complaints. He advocated a stricter medical examination before departure. Other members emphasized the need of a more careful selection of immigrants.

Mr. Waddell said that the government had no right to encourage immigration and would assist only approved doctors and the wives and children of persons already in the colony.

RADICAL REFORMS ARE PLANNED FOR SERVICE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The treasury department's tentative plan for the reorganization of the customs service, it was learned yesterday, contemplates the abolition of all customs naval officers and surveyors of customs, confining the port administration to collectors and deputy collectors.

When President Chester A. Arthur was collector at New York, he, like others, was paid on a commission and fee basis and his compensation is said to have been one of the highest.

This situation drew the attention of Congress, and all "scandals" were placed on a strictly salary basis. The principle will be extended to some lake and Canadian border ports.

In reducing the existing 165 customs districts to fewer than 50, the treasury department's plan provides for placing each district in charge of a collector and each port in charge of a deputy collector. No existing port will be abolished and many subports will be made ports.
